PLANE FOUND CRUMPLED IN WOOD PATCH

Plane First Sighted When Autogiro Passes Over Wreck Early in Morn
HIT MOUNTAIN TOP
Engine is Half Buried in Ground and One Woman Is Pinned Underneath

BY PAUL COMLY FRENCH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1932, by United Press)
NEWVILLE, Pa., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Ruth Stewart and Debbie Stanford, adventurous society aviators, crashed and were killed on wooded Bower mountain, we found today when after sighting their crumpled plane from the air, we returned to the scene of the crash by automobile.

Their white Lockheed monoplane crashed into the dense timber of the 1400-foot mountain after they left Pittsburgh Tuesday, enroute to New York, from where they planned to start a leisurely air tour to South America. They left St. Louis last week.

Solution of the mystery of their disappearance was made by a United Press correspondent and J. Paul Lukens, pilot for the Autogiro company, as we soared on a rescue mission over the dangerous mid-Pennsylvania mountain gaps.

When we returned to the mountain we found the trim white plane broken in two. In the cabin we found the body of Mrs. Stanford, a cut over one eye.

Mrs. Stewart's mangled body was found crushed under the engine of the craft. It appeared probable that Mrs. Stewart had been killed instantly, but that Mrs. Stanford had been unconscious and had died some hours later.

Lukens and I, who first sighted the wrecked craft while flying over the mountain, were the first to reach the bodies, which were not immediately removed to Newville. Scores of automobiles came from Newville to the scene and an undertaker was summoned from Newville.

The plane had crashed in dense woods on the very mountain tip. The wreckage was only a few hundred feet from a narrow mountain road that led to a fire tower near the wreckage.

Lukens, an expert pilot, viewed the wreckage and the terrain and had little difficulty visualizing the last moments of the two women fliers. He believed they were flying through a heavy fog. They negotiated a spin, a common trick, to get out.

Not realizing how low they were flying, they crashed into the mountain top without a second's warning.

In a car we engaged at Newville and accompanied by 10 members of the Pennsylvania national guard, we approached the wreckage from the mountain road. It was soft, muddy and we slushed along with mud up to our ankles. We broke through dense underbrush and came upon the wreckage.

The crash had been terrific. The engine was half buried in the ground. We first glimpsed Mrs. Stewart's body protruding from under the engine. The wings and cabin were a mass of tangled, splintered fragments. The plane glistened white and clean in bright

LIVELY BATTLE ON DRY ISSUE IS PREDICTED

Anti-Wet Democrats Will Offer Opposition to Raskob's Proposal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Dry Democrats are showing enough resistance to Democratic National Chairman Raskob's proposal for a referendum on prohibition to insure a lively fight at the national convention.

The significant thing, however, is that this resistance is inured with caution.

Many dries feel an attempt is being made to advance prohibition modification program under the guise of a referendum. They have strong suspicions of any proposal emanating from Raskob, who is a director in the association against the prohibition amendment. But some of them find it a little difficult to oppose directly a proposition to permit the people to vote on this issue, which has been surging through the political debate of the nation for more than a decade. Raskob is cocky and confident and plainly is not to be scared out by the threat of a fight.

Reports are that some Democrats have refused to attend the Jackson day dinner here Friday night on the ground that only opponents of prohibition are to be heard. The three living ex-presidential candidates are the only speakers—Alfred E. Smith, John W. Davis and James M. Cox—in addition to the toastmaster, Claude Bowers.

This is, roughly, the situation as the Democratic national committee members assemble for their meeting Saturday. Raskob has announced he will not seek a showdown at this meeting. But he will lay the proposal before it for discussion and expects it to be referred to the national convention for decision.

Democratic leaders are preparing to go to Baltimore tonight to witness the formal launching of the presidential boom for Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, the first major presidential candidate to venture into open water. Ritchie is for repeal of the 18th amendment and has always been vigorously opposed by the dries.

Register Will Publish New Feature Daily

A new and timely feature bringing special news from Washington, which is now the scene of great interest as congress considers various measures which are expected to assist in restoring better economic conditions in the nation and the world, begins in The Register today.

This feature, known as the Washington news letter, and written by Rodney Dutcher, one of the outstanding political writers for the NEA and The Register, will be found on the editorial page.

The first article deals with the proposed bond issue, which is championed by Sen. Robert LaFollette.

BOURBON BILL ON TARIFF IS HIT BY MILLS

Treasury Department Opposed, Under Secretary Tells Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Administration opposition to the Democratic tariff revision bill was presented today to the house ways and means committee by under secretary of treasury Mills.

"The treasury department does not approve of this bill and sees no occasion for it," Mills declared.

Mills said he represented the administration "in a general way."

Chairman Collier called for other officials who were invited to appear, but neither Secretary of State Stimson nor Secretary of Commerce Lamont was present.

Mills first attacked the section of the bill which would strip the president of his authority to raise or lower rates 50 per cent upon recommendation of the tariff commission. He said this would freeze the tariff rates between general revisions by congress, and would make the tariff commission an "ineffective body."

The under secretary then assailed the portion of the measure which asks President Hoover to call an international conference to adjust tariffs.

"This seems to be inconsistent with the first part of the bill," Mills said. "In the first part you take away the president's powers to adjust rates and in the second part you would give the president power to negotiate with foreign countries to adjust rates."

"If the intention is to change rates, it is the function of this body (congress) to do that," Mills declared.

"I believe that tariff rates in many countries are too high and should be lowered, but an international conference should not be agency for lowering them."

Mills also objected to the provision of the measure which would authorize the president to negotiate reciprocal tariff agreements with other nations, a section which Democratic members have decided to eliminate. He said this provision would deprive the house of representatives of its power over tariffs, pointing out that any agreements

1000 Cheer As Hound Is Freed Of Tomb

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Jan. 7.—(UP)—More than 1000 persons cheered today when a dynamite blast cleared rocks from the underground tomb of "Old Red," a coon hound which had been imprisoned 113 hours by a cavein.

Veterinarians said the dog would survive, it gulped down a sausage sandwich when brought to the surface.

The dog was pinned under an avalanche of rubble while hunting coons late Friday. Fifty-three men comprised the rescue squad.

Petitions Are Presented To Congress

Father James R. Cox Holds Conference with President Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—President Hoover received the leaders of Washington's greatest unemployment demonstration today and in a friendly meeting at the White House assured them the problems of the jobless were close to his heart.

Father James R. Cox, militant Pittsburgh priest, emerged from the interview with expressions of pleasure at his reception both at the White House and on Capitol Hill, where petitions demanding federal aid were presented to the senate and the house of representatives.

The official text of the president's remarks to Father Cox: "I am glad to receive you as representative of Pennsylvania unemployed. I have an intense sympathy for your difficulties. I have considered that the vital function of the president and of the federal government was to exert every effort and every power of the government to the restoration of stability and employment in our country which has been so greatly disturbed, largely from abroad."

"The federal government is spending now half a billion a year above normal to give employment. Worldwide depressions and their result in unemployment are like great wars. They must be fought continuously, not on one front but upon many fronts. It cannot be won by any single attack or any panacea. In the present and what I believe is the final campaign against the depression, I have laid a program before congress and I trust will secure its early adoption. The real victory is to restore men to employment through their regular jobs. This is our object. We are giving this question our undivided attention."

Cox and 11 lieutenants went to the White House while the thousands of men in the "jobless army" were having lunch, donated by the District of Columbia and prepared by army equipment from Fort Myer.

Cox, Davis and Kelly made speeches from the steps of the capitol and the thousands sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and other songs before leaving capitol hill.

Furnish Jobs For Former Millionaires

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Jobs for pre-depression millionaires and other men of former wealth was what C. E. Reed and F. E. Auer were advertising today.

And they said 50 men, their fortunes vanished with the 1929 bull market had applied for vacancies.

"What we want," Reed said, "is men with eight cylinder limousines who can't afford to buy gasoline for their cars any more."

Reed said the ex-well-to-do were put to work driving their large but expensive cars in transportation of passengers at bus rates to mid-western cities.

"Men who had two or three cars have put their former chauffeurs to work also," Reed said. He reported he had offers of 50 cars already.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

Action Taken After Consultation with Other Powers, Report States

STATEMENT PLANNED

Information Released Late Today By State Department in Washington

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The United States today invoked the Kellogg peace pact in an effort to preserve peace between Japan and China in the far east.

This action was taken after long consultation with other powers and after the United States over a period of three months had made urgent representations to Japan in an effort to halt its course in Manchuria.

Information that the pact had been invoked was obtained at the state department.

Secretary of State Stimson plans a formal statement on the Manchurian situation later today.

Invocation of the Kellogg pact by the United States conforms to the policy followed by this government since adoption of this treaty in 1928.

The purpose of the treaty is to condemn recourse to war as a solution of international controversies, and to renounce it as an instrument of national policy between the signatory countries.

The United States and other powers at the very beginning of the Manchurian hostilities in September called the attention of Japan and China to their obligations under this treaty, to which both are signatories.

United States policy since then has been directed to the prevention of hostilities, which would constitute violation of the pact. Officials have repeatedly said that they regard it as their duty to maintain world peace machinery and prevent war, although they would not undertake to dictate a settlement of the differences between Japan and China.

The Kellogg pact has no penalties for its violation, but is an instrument which serves to focus world public opinion upon aggravated international situations, and thereby discourage resort to arms.

The state department's action had a mixed reception on Capitol Hill.

Senate Majority Leader Watson said:

"Secretary Stimson had a perfect right to invoke the pact. I do not think it will do any good. The Japanese have Manchuria. They conducted a war to get it."

Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, said:

"I am inclined to think it was a desirable action. But these matters between nations must be handled carefully. I do not want to approve anything that would send our young men to Asia."

Senator Wash, Democrat, Montana, said:

"I approve of the action and regret that it was not done earlier."

For several months a feeling of uncertainty has been reflected in American newspapers as to why the Kellogg pact had not been formally invoked in view of reported clashes at arms in Manchuria. The administration has not

ROSENWALD TO BE BURIED IN CHICAGO TODAY

All Endowments of Philanthropist Must Be Spent in Next 25 Years

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Julius Rosenwald who peddled newspapers for a living as a boy died yesterday, Chicago's wealthiest citizen and greatest philanthropist.

In his death, the 69 year old donor of more than 60 millions from the tremendous fortune built by his merchandising genius left a code to guide those who seek to benefit mankind with their wealth.

"Give for the living," Rosenwald, whose last thoughts were of his charities, said. "Those who seek by perpetuities to create for themselves a kind of immortality will fail, because no institution can live forever."

All his endowments must be spent within 25 years of his death.

The Alger-like story of Rosenwald's success was a saga of American life. The boy who sold newspapers and chronos on the streets of Springfield, Ill., and pumped a church organ at 5 cents an hour rose to chairmanship of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., the mail order house he built.

But with success, came a tremendous sense of the responsibility of enormous wealth. More perhaps than any American, Rosenwald studied the uses his fortune would be put to and directed its

G. O. P. LEAD IN COUNTY STILL SAME AS EVER

Republicans Number 1623 Out of 2359 Registered Under New Law

A TABULATION OF 2359 registrations from throughout Orange county showed today that the normal ratio of Republicans and Democrats is being practically maintained under the permanent registration system now being introduced, it was announced today by County Clerk J. M. Backs.

In other words the Republican voters are just about keeping their head over the Democrats in the ratio of two and one-half to one.

The tabulation showed that the group of 2359 contained 1623 Republicans and 686 Democrats.

The survey revealed 12 Prohibitionists, three Socialists and 45 voters who declined to state their parties.

A total of 168 registration deputies is in the field and it is expected that the registration will be close to 55,000 in Orange county before the work is completed.

LIVES ENDANGERED BY FLOOD WATERS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Lives were imperiled in the northern Mississippi flood area today when a break in the Mathews Bayou levee sent flood waters over a wide stretch of lowlands.

The United Press correspondent at Glendora, Miss., said motor launches were taking Negroes off house tops and others were rescued from precarious perches in trees.

Water six to 10 feet deep was reported surging in the immediate vicinity of the break—two miles north of Swan Lake, Miss.

BRITISH SHOPS IN INDIA PICKETED

BOMBAY, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Picketing of English owned shops by Indian nationalist volunteers began today in Bombay.

Large crowds watched as the pickets were assigned to their positions at the entrances of the shops. Police did not interfere.

Arrest of nationalists continued in many towns of the Bombay presidency. Meanwhile the viceroy, Lord Willingdon, invited the moderate leader Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, to discuss the situation with him.

Many members of the congress were arrested at Ahmedabad. An 18-year-old school girl was appointed "dictator" of the Poona Youth League.

Leaders who were arrested appointed successors immediately.

IMPEACHMENT RESOLUTION TO BE CONSIDERED

Chairman of House Judiciary Committee Says Will Take Action

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Chairman Sumners of the House judiciary committee said today his committee would give consideration to the resolution of Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas, seeking impeachment of Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

Patman, famed as champion of a cash bonus for war veterans, created a sensation when he stood before the House and accused Mellon of violating a law passed in 1929, though he had said for several months he was going to do it.

The law the Texan claims Mellon has infringed prohibits a secretary of treasury from engaging in business and commerce. Patman talked glibly in billions before the House in reciting the world-wide financial interests which have made the Mellon name a symbol for wealth and power.

The charge has been brought against Mellon before, and the dean of President Hoover's cabinet has weathered it. When his nomination was pending 10 years ago before a senate committee, this charge was made and Mellon was exonerated. It has been repeated since.

No one seemed to take its repetition very seriously, and there was no expectation that Patman would get anywhere.

FIVE CHILDREN ARE KILLED BY FATHER

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Oliver Davenport, a farmer, faced with the loss of his home, beat five of his children to death with a hammer today, seriously injured his wife and another child, then committed suicide with a shotgun.

The slain:

Verda, 19; Clara, 8; Raymond, 5; Lee, 3; an eight-month-old baby.

Davenport apparently pulled a shoe off after killing the five and with his foot succeeded in discharging the shotgun with which he took his own life.

Mrs. Davenport and her daughter, Virgie, twin of Verda, were brought to a hospital here. Their skulls were fractured. The girl is not expected to live.

NEW GAS TAX BILL FOR STATE PLANNED

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Redistribution of California's gasoline tax revenues to give counties a large share and permit reduction in the rural road tax, will be sought in the 1933 session of the state legislature.

This was predicted here today by Ralph H. Taylor, executive secretary of the agricultural legislative committee, who said two plans could achieve the purpose, as follows:

Abolishing the existing allocation act, under which the state receives 2 cents and counties 1 cent on each gallon of gasoline, and substituting a "50-50" allocation plan, giving 1½ cent each to the state and counties. This would reduce county property taxes $7,000,000 a year, Taylor said.

KELLOGG LETTER READ COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—A letter from Secretary of State Kellogg to American bankers written in 1926, warning them to use great care in making loans to Germany, was read to the senate finance committee investigation of foreign loans today.

The letter pointed out the heavy burden of debt Germany had assumed in paying reparations, and suggested that bankers should inquire into the matter of priority claims before making loans. Considerable money was loaned Germany after the date of the letter.

PACIFIC GAS WILL SPEND $1,228,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—(UP)—New construction costing $1,228,440 is planned by the Pacific Gas & Electric company, it became known today. Announcement of the program was made by R. E. Fisher, vice president of the company, at a dinner at which 500 leaders of the California Electrical Industry met.

Most of a $300,000 advertising appropriation will be spent in newspapers, he said.

Electrical merchandising in all classes of business in northern and central California amounted to $14,737,192 during the past year, H. M. 737,192 during the past year, H. M. told the gathering.

SENATE TAKES UP FINANCE PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The senate shortly after noon today began consideration of the administration's $2,000,000,000 emergency credit relief program while thousands of unemployed marchers from Pennsylvania demonstrated without disorder outside the capitol for an opportunity to work.

The senate proceeded with its business oblivious of the massed humanity in the capitol plaza.

BODY OF MISSING AVIATOR IS FOUND

ELKINS, W. Va., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Discovery of the body of Lieut. E. H. Bobbitt, Jr., 24-year-old army pilot, has ended a search started Christmas eve.

The young flier died in a crash near Valley Head, about 31 miles from here, while enroute from Selfridge field, Mich., to Hot Springs, Va.

Two campers, happened across the plane's wreckage in a thick woods. Bobbitt's body was still strapped to the pilot's seat, badly burned.

Kenneth Harlan Held To Answer

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Kenneth Harlan, film actor, today was ordered held to the superior court for trial on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

The actor was released on his own recognizance after a preliminary hearing in municipal court.

According to the testimony of A. A. Abbott, a milk wagon driver, the actor's automobile was traveling in excess of 50 miles an hour when it crashed into his wagon.

J. L. Brandon, a truck driver, claimed to have been an eye witness to the crash. He testified that Harlan's car passed him on the wrong side of the street and struck the milk wagon with such force that the wagon was separated from the horse.

SALARY CUT BILLS CHECKED AT START

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The movement to cut government salaries was checked at the outset in the house today.

The expenditures committee, which has jurisdiction, tabled four pending measures after hearing their sponsors.

NOTED FLIER KILLED IN CRASH OF PLANE

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 7.—(UP)—A hundred fliers "went on with the show" today, but Dale Jackson, noted stunter and co-holder of the endurance record, was not in the cast.

Jackson crashed to his death here late yesterday before the all-American air races today. His plane, an experimental Curtiss Amphibian, broke apart as Jackson tried his favorite stunt, an inverted spin. Both wings collapsed, the tail gear buckled and the wreckage shot down 3000 feet.

Jackson's mutilated body was found in the wreckage, one finger curled through the ring of his parachute rip cord.

ALIENISTS CALLED IN TRIAL OF COLLIE

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Two alienists from the state hospital at Patton were called as prosecution witnesses today at the murder trial of Gilbert C. Collie, a giant blacksmith, and testifier that they believed Collie to be physically and mentally sound.

The alienists, Dr. H. S. Blossom and Dr. C. M. Trader, declared during their testimony that Collie had confessed to them the slaying of Dale Slater, young Dallas, (CQ) Ore., youth, on the desert near Yermo last June.

SINGAPORE, Jan. 7.—(To the Editor of The Register:.) You heard about the equator; well, here is a town that is straddle of it. It runs right through my hotel room and in all the beds here they have a long narrow pillow that lays longways. It's supposed to be some aid to you in keeping cool and it's called Dutch wife. This used to be a wild port but this Dutch wife is the extent of its devilment now.

flow back into the channels from which it came.

Personally he was modest. His funeral was characteristic of this modesty. In accordance with one of Rosenwald's last expressed wishes, the time and place of the services will be kept secret. Lessing Rosenwald, his oldest son, said the ceremony would be conducted today but none but members of the family and most intimate friends would attend. The philanthropist asked that no flowers be sent.

Rosenwald's genius of philanthropy was equalled only by his genius of business. In both fields he was a pioneer with radical ideas.

Angling Club In Annual Meeting At Balboa January 14

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 7.—The annual meeting of the Balboa Angling club will be held the evening of January 14 at the club's headquarters, 305 Palm street, according to a notice sent out by Howard Bateman, secretary.

The result of the election of directors for the year will be announced at the annual meeting, when cups and trophies won during the past season will be awarded.

Balloons have been sent out to members, with the notice. They may be mailed any time between now and the 14th, or taken in person to the clubhouse that afternoon between 1 and 5 o'clock. It is announced.

hitherto clarified its position publicly, evidently having hoped for a tranquillization of the Manchurian situation without such a drastic step.

Chinese official opinion has been that there was a clear violation of the pact. Chinese held that Japanese military movements were unjustified, aggressive advances against a peaceful neighbor.

The Japanese maintained, however, that their actions in Manchuria did not constitute a violation of the Kellogg pact. The Japanese declared their operations were in the nature of "policing" made necessary by disorders and incursions of irresponsible Chinese and bandits. The Japanese have persistently denied that a "state of war" existed.

NEWSPAPER FIGHTS RULING OF JUDGE

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 7.—(UP)—A newspaper fighting for freedom of the press and a judge fighting for absolute control over his court waged battle here today in the Kentucky court of appeals.

Newton D. Baker, wartime secretary of war and potential presidential candidate, led legal counsel for the Knoxville, Tenn., News-Sentinel in its petition to set aside a dictum barring its representatives from reporting deliberations of Judge Henry R. Prewitt's circuit court at Mt. Sterling, 68 miles east of here.

Prewitt, who banned News-Sentinel representatives from his court because of alleged libelous, slanderous, false editorial statements, sent his two sons, Allen and Reid Prewitt, attorneys, to join issue with Baker.

Mills said he thought much could be accomplished by a general international conference on all economic problems. But congress, he added, would have to enunciate the United States policy before this country went into a conference. He said he could find nothing in the tariff bill which revealed the intent of congress.

"If the United States went into a conference it would come out of it with less clothes than Gandhi wears," Rep. Crowther, Rep. N. Y. interjected. "I think even the safety pin would be missing."

HARRY SHIPKEY BIDS FOR JOB AT S. F. U.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Harry Shipkey of Salinas, today joined the list of former Stanford gridiron stars now seeking the vacant football mentorship at San Francisco university.

Harry, famous as a tackle under Glenn Warner, and his brother, Ted Shipkey, coach at Arizona State Teachers' college, were arrayed as rivals for the post, along with "Spud" Lewis of Northwestern, Fred Swan of Wisconsin, Jack Chevigny of Notre Dame and Fred Solomon. All but Chevigny were stars on Warner teams.

Another Warner All-American, Ernie Nevers, was mentioned as "under consideration" by S. F. U. officials. Nevers, now coach and fullback of a Chicago professional football team, has not formally applied.

Hold Funeral Of Mary Jane Storms

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—Funeral services for Mary Jane Storms, 31-2 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Storms, of Arlington, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Gilgolly Funeral home. The Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor of the Christian church, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Storms are well known in this city, where they formerly made their home. They are remaining in Orange for a short time with Mrs. Storms' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Estus, 248 North Grand street.

Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Leon H. Des Larzes, who sang "Abide With Me" and "Sometime We'll Understand." She was accompanied by Otis C. Ingie.

Mary Jane's death followed a two weeks' illness and came while she was in a Riverside hospital. Those who survive her are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Storms, and their three children, Jessie Mae Storms, Edna Jimmie and Billie Storms, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Estus, of this city.

Interment was made in Fairhaven cemetery.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS TRAVEL TALK, MUSIC

Affairs of the Kiwanis club were officially turned over to President Fred Newcomb yesterday when the club met in Ketter's cafe. Past President Charles Walker presided for the opening ceremonies and after thanking committeemen and other members of the club for their co-operation during the administration turned the gavel over to Newcomb.

President Newcomb announced that appointments of committees for the new year would be made next week and that the relief of unemployment should be the major project of Kiwanis for this year.

J. F. Baumgartner was chairman for the day and presented an excellent program of music and an outline of the trip through the east and south recently completed by George Smith, James Smart and himself.

A group of talented young musicians, Robert Forcey and Betty Smedley, violinists, Mary Nau, flute and Earl Motley, pianist, played several semi-classical selections.

Declaring that the real value of travel is cultural rather than educational, Baumgartner spoke of the party's trip through the south and visits to the place that was inspirational to Stephen Foster when he wrote "My Old Kentucky Home" and of the visit to "The Hermitage," Jackson's birthplace.

Smith was introduced as the speaker and outlined the itinerary which took the Santa Ana party through the east, south and southwest.

BIRTHDAY DINNER HELD IN CYPRESS

CYPRESS, Jan. 7.—The Jolly Pot Luckers club of Cypress met at the home of Mrs. Steve Luther on Miller street Wednesday. Those present were Mrs. Max Thornton and son and Mrs. A. R. Pitts, of Artesia; Mrs. Jack Wetherby, of Compton; Mrs. M. M. Carpenter and Mrs. J. W. Fuquay, of Lincoln avenue; Mrs. C. L. Barnett and daughter, Jean, of Miller street; Mrs. O. P. Bunyard, of Orange avenue; Mrs. C. J. Lambdin of Anaheim, and Mrs. Steve Luther.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rennie entertained in their home on Walker street Tuesday evening with a birthday dinner in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Glen Foster. The table was beautifully decorated with pink, white and green tapers and flowers. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Glen Foster and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rennie and son, Ernest Jr., of Buena Park; Alfred Rennie and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rennie.

Later in the evening, other guests arrived to surprise Mrs. Foster. There was the diversion of the evening, with Mrs. Ernest Rennie winning first prize, Emory Faulkner, second prize, and Mrs. Max Thornton, consolation. Refreshments were served at a late hour by Mrs. W. J. Rennie, assisted by Mrs. Ernest Rennie. Those who arrived later were Mr. and Mrs. Max Thornton, of Artesia, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Faulkner, of Santa Ana.

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Huenergart, of Walker and Electric streets, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dooling recently. The evening was spent playing "500."

Helen Louise Smith has returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Fitzgerald on Bishop street with whom she resides, after a two weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Roberson in Ventura.

ARRAIGN COUPLE ON SERIOUS COUNT

A. P. Owens and Mrs. Maude Owens, his wife, were arraigned in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of two minor children.

Their preliminary examination was set for January 12, at 9 a. m. and bail of $1500 was demanded in each case, neither of which made it.

Mrs. Owens was arrested late yesterday by George McKelvey, deputy sheriff. Her husband was already in jail, having been locked up several days ago on a liquor charge.

According to the complaint in the case the parents of two small children, one eight, the other seven, contributed to their delinquency by having liquor in the home and by failure to give the children the proper training.

Child Relief To Be Meeting Topic

Members of the Crippled Children's Relief Association of Orange county have been notified of the fifth annual meeting of the State Society to be held tomorrow at 9 a. m. The notice was sent out by President E. S. Morrow of the local organization who said that special speakers have been secured for the meeting through efforts of Dr. H. D. Barnard, program chairman. The session will be held in the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles.

Because of the state society meeting of the regular session of the directors of the Orange County group has been postponed until January 15. The postponed session will be held at noon in the Elks club at Anaheim.

BREAKFASTERS WILL ATTEND RECEPTION

Members of the Santa Ana Breakfast Club accepted an invitation extended them by ladies of the First Baptist church to attend the annual reception in honor of the Rev. Harry E. Owings and his wife. The reception will be held on the night of January 15. The invitation was read at the regular weekly session of the club held this morning in Ketter's Cafe.

Owings, who is past president of the club, was program chairman this morning and presented Miss Laura Joiner in a group of vocal solos and Harold Matthews collector of unique musical instruments. Miss Allien Lair, accompanied both musicians at the piano.

During the business meeting of the club plans were made for a membership campaign to be conducted immediately.

THIEVES LOOT GARDEN GROVE GAS STATION

Burglars who broke into the service station at Ocean avenue and Berano road, near Garden Grove, some time last night stole three inner-tubes for automobile tires, and a cigaret vending machine, according to a report filed with the sheriff today.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Nickels made an investigation of the burglary, learning, he reported that entrance was made through a rear window. W. A. Cornelius, of El Toro, reported to the sheriff today that chicken thieves who came to his place last night were frightened away apparently. He found all his coops unlocked today but the chickens had not been taken.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT
With the help of God and of your dear one in Paradise, who loves and trusts you, you must keep your purpose clear and uncorrupted by the desires, which dominate many in the multitude surrounding you.
You cannot with impunity risk the merging of your aspirations with the conflicting wills of those, who blindly seek their own transient satisfactions and who recognize no responsibility to try to know and to fulfill God's loving will.
Sometimes you will feel supremely lonely for understanding human companionship, in due time you will find a few, whose ideas harmonize with yours, but your real friendship will be with the one you love the best and with God, who loves and sustains you both.

PLAN APPROVED BY GROUP OF CIVIC LEADERS

First work on the construction of Santa Ana's new stadium and auditorium at the Olive street bowl, begun at this time to give work to the city's unemployed, started early today when 12 men began tearing up the seats at the baseball diamond, preparatory to clearing out the bowl for enlargement purposes. DeWitt Dudley, city engineer, who is in charge of the work, in connection with the Santa Ana city council and the Santa Ana Emergency Unemployment committee, declared today that more men would be added to the crew probably the first of next week, when more excavation work was to be started.

Dudley said that plans for the clearing up the property, preparatory to the construction of the new $150,000 civil building and grounds were not completed as yet and that he was unable to give out at this time the number of men who would be given work later on.

Tear Out Wall
The tearing down of the seats probably will take the remainder of the week, and the work of tearing down the concrete wall will be started the first of the week, Dudley declared.

"There is only one thing definitely established at this time," Dudley said today, "and that is that we are going to use all the needy labor we can on an economical basis."

Men who have been put to work in the bowl and who will get jobs next week and later will be men who have registered and who do register at the office of the city's emergency unemployment committee in the old Frances Willard school building on North Main street. Dudley said today that he already had applications for four men as many men as he needed.

Leaders Endorse Plan
Business and professional men of the city, generally, have given their approval to the stadium and civil auditorium project as a relief measure during the present unemployment crisis. The following statements made as work started today:

Santa Ana high school and president of the Santa Ana junior college: "I've been in favor of such a project from the beginning. It is one thing of a community nature to which I never have heard the slightest objection. The civic center and the playing field particularly will be a great help during the football season. With so many teams using the high school stadium, it is difficult to keep it in proper shape."
"The project will be a real incentive to work in physical education. I present students work hard preparing for parades, decorating floats or developing pageants but they have no adequate place in which to show the results of their work. In the stadium, physical education exhibits, dances, gymnasium demonstrations with thousands of students in them could be put on very effectively and people could watch and enjoy such events and parades, study them and get a great deal out of them."
"Many people who don't go often to games don't realize that they may be the first to get benefit from such a project in other ways."
"I look for 100 per cent co-operation in the project."

County Officials
County Auditor W. T. Lambert: "I think it is a very meritorious proposition if it can be financed and if an auditorium is built adequate in size to meet the needs of the community. It's value both as a civic project and as an aid to unemployment will be of a permanent nature."
Franklin G. West, Santa Ana attorney: "The civic center project has considerable advertising value through visitors who come to the city and attend functions there. It will afford work for the unemployed which not only will benefit them but also will produce something which is needed by the city."
Presiding Judge James L. Allen: "I am for anything that will im-

HERE'S WAY TO HELP

Below is the form for making a pledge to aid the Citizens Unemployment Relief Fund. Every employed person in the city should do his bit in caring for the needy of the community and a standard of at least one day's pay each month is suggested as a minimum to meet this pressing need. Fill it out in the largest possible amount and mail it to the Unemployment Relief headquarters.

To Citizens Unemployment Relief Headquarters, Tenth and Main Streets, Santa Ana, California.

I AM MY BROTHER'S KEEPER
In this emergency, I pledge myself to pay to the Citizens Unemployment Relief Committee of Santa Ana, monthly for not more than five months, and if needed and called for, the amount hereafter checked.

prove the community and give people work.
Dr. Percy R. Davis, city school superintendent: "I am in favor of it. I would favor anything that could be done to help the unemployed situation and also put over a worthwhile project."

B. E. Tarver, Santa Ana attorney and referee in bankruptcy: "It looks to me like a good thing. The object is wise and a civic center would be an improvement to the city that we could enjoy and that would be of benefit to us."

Advantageous Time
George Dunton, Santa Ana business man: "I believe that this is a great work providing the work can be done without increasing taxes. It is far better to provide work than charity for the unemployed and the launching of this civic project is a good work and is being started at an advantageous time."

E. N. Owen, Santa Ana business man: "The launching of this stadium project is a fine thing for the relief of unemployment and is a fine thing for the youth of the city as it will provide an athletic field available to all."

D. C. Cianfoni, leader of the Santa Ana Municipal band: "Santa Ana is fortunate to be in a position that enables it to start this work at this time. No other city in Southern California has launched a civic enterprise as a relief measure and I believe that while this project will give Santa Ana a much needed improvement it will also serve as an object lesson for other communities on handling the unemployment problem."

Congratulations in Order

B. Z. McKinney, Santa Ana attorney: "I am thoroughly in favor of this project. The city needs the improvement and it will be of great benefit to the unemployed. Mayor John Knox, members of the city council, The Citizens' Unemployment Emergency Relief committee and other co-operating organizations are to be congratulated upon the forethought and work that evolved a plan whereby the unemployed are to be given relief through labor and not charity."

Frederic Sanford, secretary-manager Orange County Builders' Exchange: "It is an excellent idea and if properly handled will help the unemployed and at the same time give the city a valuable improvement."
A. N. Zerman, Santa Ana business man and civic worker: "I believe that this is a good plan for the relief of the unemployed which is this city's immediate need. Many plans can be and are suggested for the relief of the present situation. All of them are meritorious but when a project is offered that combines relief with lasting benefits to the city and every resident, that I believe is the one to be adopted."
"My only suggestion would be to employ all the hand labor possible, both skilled and unskilled, even if it runs the cost of the project a little higher."

PROBE NEED FOR ALSO CHECK DAMS

The advisability of building check dams on Aliso creek is being investigated by Murray Thompson, Orange County flood control engineer, who will report to the board of supervisors the results of his studies. It was learned today. Residents in the vicinity of the creek have claimed that some flood control work should be done in that area, although the general county flood control report does not include works on Aliso creek.

Construction of check dams also would serve as another means of relieving unemployment, Thompson said. Such dams would be built mainly of pipe and wire, the plan being that the creek then would fill in material behind the structure which would check the flood waters and prevent washing below.

FARM BUREAU NIMS. IDEALS ARE OUTLINED

Summarizing the aims and ideals of the Farm Bureau in the statement: "An American standard of living for the American farm home, and an income to maintain." R. D. Flaherty spoke over radio KREG recently and outlined the 1932 program for the American Farm Bureau Federation. Flaherty, who is executive secretary for the Orange County Farm Bureau, explained the background for each recommendation in the program and told the reasons for its inclusion.

The program as outlined by Flaherty deals first with the Agricultural Marketing Act. According to the speaker, time and expense of more than two years in its operation have demonstrated the inadequacy of the act properly to control surpluses and to make agricultural tariffs effective. The American Farm Bureau Federation believes that to make this act accomplish its purpose the equalization fee must be included in the present act and the Agricultural Marketing Act by including this fee or some other equally effective method whereby the cost of controlling crop surpluses would be borne by each unit of the commodity benefited.

Two Alternatives
Recognizing that under present conditions two alternatives face the farmer and other business interests, one of which is wholesale bankruptcy and the other a rapid rise in the average wholesale commodity price level to a point near that at the beginning of the present deflation, restoring confidence and making it possible for individuals, corporations and nations to discharge their obligations and proceed with their undertakings, the federation recommends and insists that the Federal Reserve Law be amended so as to make mandatory the exercise of all available powers to restore average wholesale commodity price levels, the speaker said. The most important powers to be restored are listed as: Open market purchase of eligible securities; lowering of discount rates; and liberal interpretation of rediscount eligibility rules.

The following action by congress was also recommended to stabilize the purchasing power of money: Direct the Federal Reserve System to use all its powers following restoration of price levels to stabilize the purchasing power of money insofar as possible, using for that purpose all its monetary and credit powers, including currency and credit control, open market operation, and changes in discount rates and in rediscount eligibility rules.

Empower and direct the Federal Reserve Board to raise or lower reserve requirements of the Federal Reserve Banks and to raise or lower the price of gold; and broaden the rediscount eligibility provision of the Federal Reserve Act.

Urge Tax Commission
The federation favored an act of congress providing for appointment of a special National Tax Commission consisting of representatives of every major national economic group and the foremost authorities to consider and recommend sound and co-ordinated systems of taxation adapted to the needs of both federal and state government, Flaherty said.

Declaring that the earnings of private car lines and other subsidiaries of railroads should be placed under jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce commission and that such consolidation of railroads as will reduce expenses and make possible lower freight rates on agricultural products is approved, the federation is urging that the Interstate Commerce Commission complete as soon as possible its present investigation of such expenditures of the railroads as are not under the supervision of that body. This investigation would be used as a basis for further action either of legislative or administrative character.

The federation's national land policy was outlined by Flaherty as follows:

"It is further urged that our national land policy include provision for:

"The complete inventory of our land resources;
"Taxation adjustments, taking into consideration areas taken from production;
"Reclamation projects and policies to be integrated with the national land policy through the department of agriculture;
"The public domain and national forests to be administered jointly by federal agencies;
"Reforestation on the widest possible scale by federal, state, county, township and municipal units of the government jointly and severally."

Dr. Middlemass quoted with great effect the story told by Dr. Edward A. Steiner of a visit with Count Tolstoy. Dr. Steiner asked the great Russian philosopher if he believed in Jesus.

"I knew you would ask that question," said Tolstoy. "Everybody who comes here asks it of me. Priests come, the metropolitans, the Jews, the French, the Germans, the French, the Jews, and Musselmans. When I tell them that, 'Tolstoy is anathema.'"

"Very well, then, I am cursed by the church because I believe that Jesus was a man who revealed to us divine truth, truth which is not an ideal after which we are to strive, but a law which we must obey."

Bruin Cagers Off For North Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The basketball squad of the University of California at Los Angeles will leave tonight for Palo Alto, where they will start a race for the championship of the Coast conference, Southern division, in think He was a man like myself, all God dwell in Him fully, all ways, even as He wants to dwell fully in you. The salvation that will make the trip.

Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, presiding at last night's meeting, stressed the importance of the spiritual effects of the services, and urged that those present not only return, but that they pass on to other people the word of invitation.

Last night's sermon was devoted to a study of "The Content of the Christian Message."

"Each age must interpret the gospel for itself, to suit its own needs," said the preacher. "In past ages, men have found its message to be one of theology, and of philosophy. They have tried to find in it the answer to life's riddles. Men have been inclined to substitute religion for morality. They have tried to put form and ceremony in the place of vital experience."

"The business of the church is to preach the simple gospel of commonplace things—to show men how to meet their daily tasks and problems in the spirit of Jesus. Today, we look at the gospel as a way of living. It is something to thrill us—to lead us out in an adventure in faith—to make us rejoice in the possibility of conquest."

"The cross is no longer a theory. It now points a way of living. It is the law of the Christian life. Someone has paid my debt, in love, and I must pay, too, by my living service for others. The Christ crucified is as essential to the Christian message today as it was to Paul, but it carries the implication that we who follow him must be crucified in service also."

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The basketball squad of the University of California at Los Angeles will leave tonight for Palo Alto, where they will start a race for the championship of the Coast conference, Southern division, in think He was a man like myself, all God dwell in Him fully, all ways, even as He wants to dwell fully in you. The salvation that will make the trip.

Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, presiding at last night's meeting, stressed the importance of the spiritual effects of the services, and urged that those present not only return, but that they pass on to other people the word of invitation.

Last night's sermon was devoted to a study of "The Content of the Christian Message."

"Each age must interpret the gospel for itself, to suit its own needs," said the preacher. "In past ages, men have found its message to be one of theology, and of philosophy. They have tried to find in it the answer to life's riddles. Men have been inclined to substitute religion for morality. They have tried to put form and ceremony in the place of vital experience."

"The business of the church is to preach the simple gospel of commonplace things—to show men how to meet their daily tasks and problems in the spirit of Jesus. Today, we look at the gospel as a way of living. It is something to thrill us—to lead us out in an adventure in faith—to make us rejoice in the possibility of conquest."

GOSPEL MUST BE EXPLAINED FOR EACH AGE

The ministers of Santa Ana are urging the people not to overlook the opportunity which is offered them this week in the union services of the Week of Prayer being held at the First Presbyterian church at 730 O'clock each night.

The sermons by Dr. William Middlemass, the guest preacher for the week, are proving to be of an unusually inspirational, practically helpful sort, according to those in attendance, and the ministers remind their people that only two evenings of the series are left, as the union services will close tomorrow.

Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, presiding at last night's meeting, stressed the importance of the spiritual effects of the services, and urged that those present not only return, but that they pass on to other people the word of invitation.

"The cross is no longer a theory. It now points a way of living. It is the law of the Christian life. Someone has paid my debt, in love, and I must pay, too, by my living service for others. The Christ crucified is as essential to the Christian message today as it was to Paul, but it carries the implication that we who follow him must be crucified in service also."

Dr. Middlemass quoted with great effect the story told by Dr. Edward A. Steiner of a visit with Count Tolstoy. Dr. Steiner asked the great Russian philosopher if he believed in Jesus.

"I knew you would ask that question," said Tolstoy. "Everybody who comes here asks it of me. Priests come, the metropolitans, the Jews, the French, the Germans, the French, the Jews, and Musselmans. When I tell them that, 'Tolstoy is anathema.'"

"Very well, then, I am cursed by the church because I believe that Jesus was a man who revealed to us divine truth, truth which is not an ideal after which we are to strive, but a law which we must obey."

$42,554,000 IS ON STATE ROADS DURING 1931

A review of the activities of the California department of public works headed by Col. Walter E. Garrison was made public locally yesterday through P. A. Stanton, of Anaheim, member of the California highway commission. The report shows that a construction record was made with the completion of 503 miles of new roads and 115 public buildings.

The year's work exceeds by several million dollars the record of any former year. The division of highways, the report said, has transacted a business during 1931 that totals $42,554,000, which includes work under way, bids opened prior to January 1 and work carried over from 1930.

Converted into mileage terms the record shows 803 miles of completed or progressing improvement. The items making this total are the following: graded roads, 70 miles; untreated crushed rock surface, 59 miles; bituminous treated crushed rock surface, 454 miles; bituminous macadam pavement, 7 miles; Portland cement concrete pavement, 133 miles; asphalt concrete pavement, 15 miles.

The state highway system comprises 7251 miles, 2051 of which are paved, 1475 graded and merely surfaced with crushed stone, and 519 miles graded, leaving 1946 miles ungraded and unsurfaced, practically untouched.

"If the program is to go forward the present sources of revenue, majoring in the gas tax, must remain unimpaired," the report said. "It is cheerfully paid by the people and then quickly returned to them in improvements. Increasing demands for improved highways as well as the vast obligations already assumed by the state render utterly untenable any proposition that, directly or indirectly, would reduce full gas tax accruals to the highway division. The gas tax carries no bond interest. The roads go forward on a cash basis. There is an orderly plan working toward an ultimately completed system. There is a daily solvency of funds and a frank, open accounting. The pay as you go plan lays no burden on the property of today or tomorrow. The disbursing of 85 per cent of these millions to the ultimate laborer pays but does not increase taxes."

With variations in totals due to personal or local conditions between 1926 and 1930 men have been employed through the governor's relief employment program. The quotas are now in process of being brought to their maximum of 4000. On December 30 the division of architecture had under actual construction since January 1, 1931, a total construction value of $8,225,617, representing 177 projects. On December 16, 115 of these had been completed at a construction value of $4,420,098. During January bids will be called for on projects having an additional construction value of $681,000.

Denies Guilt On Assault Charge

H. G. Banfield, 1725 West Pine street, arrested several days ago on a charge of assault, appeared in police court yesterday before Judge J. G. Mitchell, pleaded not guilty to the charge and asked for a jury trial.

The trial was set for January 27, at 9 a. m. by the court and Banfield was released on his own recognizance pending that time.

Banfield was arrested by the complaining witness in the case, J. Williams, Santa Ana, who is said to be a special deputy sheriff. Williams claimed in the complaint that Banfield attacked him.

CITRUS WHITE FLY PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the fact has been established that Citrus White Fly, Dialeurodes citri, constitutes a menace to the citrus and persimmon industries of the State of California, and that this said species of Citrus White Fly, while known to be destructive to citrus and persimmons, also infests a number of other species of economic and ornamental plants; and

WHEREAS, the fact has been determined by the Director of Agriculture of the State of California, by virtue of an act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled, "An act to provide for the eradication of Citrus White Fly in California by providing for the establishment by proclamation of Citrus White Fly districts," which provides for the destruction or treatment of such host plants, defining the duties of the Director of Agriculture and of the County Agricultural Commissioners in relation to the provisions of this act, which same was approved May 23, 1925, and since designated as Chapter 474, Statutes of 1925, do, by this proclamation, hereby proclaim and declare that the Citrus White Fly is known to exist and does exist in that portion of the State of California which is in this state included within the following boundaries:

1. The incorporated limits of the City of Santa Ana.

2. That adjoining area, including the City of Tustin, the boundaries of which follow: a line beginning at the city boundaries of Santa Ana and extending eastward along Santa Clara Avenue to Prospect, south on Prospect to its intersection with 17th, eastward on 17th to the intersection of the Southern Pacific right-of-way, south along the Southern Pacific right-of-way to its junction with Newport Avenue, thence southwest along Newport Avenue to the intersection of Dyer Road, and westward along Dyer Road to the intersection of the official city limits of Santa Ana, and following the city boundary around the city back to its intersection with Santa Clara Avenue; and

PROVIDED that the host plants enumerated in the following list, and any others which may hereafter be found to carry infestation of Citrus White Fly, shall be subject to treatment as shall be deemed necessary by the Director of Agriculture to destroy any infestation of Citrus White Fly that may be found or presumed to exist thereon:

SLOT MACHINE QUESTION UP AT BEACH CITY

Formal attempt to authorize preparation of an ordinance to again license operation of slot machines in Laguna Beach, which was made by a member of the city council of the beach city last night, was defeated for lack of a second, but the proposal aroused considerable discussion, with divided opinion and promise of a battle on the subject at a future session of the council.

City Attorney Milburn Harvey, on whose recommendation and opinion that operation of the device is illegal, resulted in the repeal of the ordinance licensing slot machines last summer, again ruled that they were illegal, but was informally instructed by a member of the council to draft an amendment so that their operation will again be sanctioned by the city.

The matter came before the council when a report was made by Police Commissioner M. B. McMillan, that slot machines were now operating in the city without license, and asked if the council wished to have the machines banned.

Councilman Frank B. Champion, former mayor, declaring that the city needed the money, said he could see no objection to the machines and expressed the opinion that a license should again be imposed. The old license fee $40 annually and there were 25 machines in operation.

City Attorney Harvey when asked if they could run without a license, declared:

"It would be an easy matter to prove that they are gambling devices and could be put out of business as such."

Councilman C. R. Clapp said the main objection of some people to the machines is that it is necessary to put in a second nickel to get out the winning checks. "You don't get anything out of them, so far as I can see," declared Mr. Champion. "I don't play them and I think they're the bunk, but if the other fellow can get a little exercise out of them, the city can use the money."

Mayor J. E. Bishop thought the council should proceed slowly in the matter and give it full consideration.

Councilman George Wilson said he didn't think the machines did anybody any good, but he was willing to discuss it further.

"Shall I put the same amount, $40, in the new ordinance?" asked the city attorney.

"Better leave that blank," suggested Mr. Champion. "Maybe we can get more than that."

Mrs. Sarah Koppl Dies In H. B. Home

Mrs. Sarah Koppl, 63, passed away at her home in Huntington Beach early today. The body is at the Harrell and Brown Funeral home in Santa Ana pending funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Koppl is survived by four sons, Ernest Koppl, Long Beach; Leo Koppl, Huntington Beach; Joe Koppl, Palo Alto, and Frank Koppl, Norwalk, and two daughters, Mrs. Clarice Yost and Mrs. Martha Yost, Huntington Beach.

Court Notes

Charging that her husband attempted to stab her with a knife in the presence of their children on December 18, Dolores Quenzada has filed suit for divorce in superior court against Jose Quenzada. They married in 1919 at Los Angeles and separated on December 29, 1931, at Glorietta, the complaint said. Mrs. Quenzada asked to be given custody of the two minor children.

Brown and Dauser company has filed suit in superior court against Fred J. Schubert, seeking to foreclose a mechanic's lien against Anaheim property and asking judgment for $840.53.

Seeking judgment for $1000 asserted to be due on a promissory note, the First National Bank of Santa Ana has brought suit in superior court against Ray and Alma Ashton.

John J. Ruedy, administrator of the estate of the late Arnold M. Ruedy, has brought suit in superior court against John P. Vogel, asking an accounting of the partnership business in which the defendant and Arnold Ruedy engaged before the latter's death on February 2, 1929.

L. E. Orr, guardian of the estate of Della Boggs, has brought suit in superior court against Frans Nelson and Sons, Inc. and others, seeking surrender of a $2000 note and $40 alleged to have been paid by Della Boggs on the purchase

CHURCH ELECTS NEW OFFICERS: REPORTS MADE

More than 200 members and friends of the First Christian church attended the annual meeting and dinner of the church which was held in the banquet room of the educational building of the church last night.

Annual reports made by officers and heads of the various departments revealed that the church has made good progress, that affairs of the congregation are in very good condition, all treasuries showing balances on hand with all bills paid.

After the election of three elders and 12 deacons to serve on the church board for a three-year term, the board was re-organized for the year and the following officers were elected: chairman, M. D. Haskell; vice chairman, T. E. Williams; secretary, Paul Neff; treasurer, J. A. George; financial secretary, Mildred Pratt.

Haskell succeeds, to the post as head of the board, T. D. Knights, who has served in that capacity over a period of 20 years, and who asked at the meeting last night to be relieved of the duties of the office.

During the dinner meeting an address was made by the Rev. William C. Cheverton, of Ventura, in which he asserted that the church should lead in an optimistic attitude toward the future and should strengthen faith in God and God's plan for the world.

"Two new names were added to the roster of the church board as a result of the election last night, others being re-elected to their posts. The new members are Charles Hill and Allen Snipes.

OFFER UNIVERSITY EXTENSION COURSES

Several university extension courses are to be opened in Santa Ana and Anaheim in the near future, it was revealed today by Mrs. Golden Weston, member of the committee in charge of arrangements for these classes. The courses are to be given as the University of California at Los Angeles, and will involve a registration fee of $1 and a part of the extension division of course fee of $12. Classes, meeting places and instructors are as follows:

Applied psychology, January 11, Fremont school auditorium, 4 to 6 p. m., Dr. Elizabeth Sullivan; general geology, January 12, room 253 junior college, 7 to 8:30 p. m., Horace A. Scott; methods in teaching nature study, January 13, Anaheim Union high school, 7 to 8 p. m. A course in contemporary world history is also being contemplated and will be offered if there is any popular request for it.

ORAL SURGERY IS DISCUSSED FOR DENTISTS

Following the golf tournament yesterday afternoon in which Dr. John Wehrley won the first leg in play for the California Dental Cup members of the Orange County Dental association were entertained at a banquet at Santa Ana Country club. Dr. C. V. Schutz, of Anaheim, president of the association, presided during the banquet and introduced the speaker.

Dr. John W. Wilson was the principal speaker talking on oral surgery and post-operative treatment. An interesting demonstration of the violet ray also was featured during the program. The banquet program was arranged by the entertainment committee comprising the following members: Dr. A. H. Tyrell and Dr. C. M. Baker, both of Orange.

Dr. Harvey M. Spears, Santa Ana, was chairman of the golf committee with the following members assisting him: Dr. C. M. Baker, Orange; Dr. F. H. Houck, Anaheim; and Dr. H. G. Howe of Fullerton. Dr. Wehrley won the California Dental Cup with a low net of 75 and in addition to the cup won the prize offered by the Orange County Dental Laboratory for the best average low score for the year. Dr. M. M. Menges of Fullerton, won the blind bogey match and Dr. Carl P. Tomkins, Anaheim won the match play against par three down.

PROGRAM ARRANGED
WINTERSBURG, Jan. 7.—A new program for the King's Herald, junior missionary society of the Wintersburg Methodist church, is planned. The "African Bush" is the name of the program, which includes the taking of an African name by each of the 15 members of the group. African games will be played during social hours and the African food served at a party which is scheduled for the closing feature of the contest.

DR. WHITSON HEADS SANTA ANA TEMPLARS

Following a dinner at 6:30 p. m. attended by 250 members and their wives, Santa Ana Commandery No. 36, Knights Templar, installed new officers in the Masonic temple here last night under the direction of Grand Commander Aubrey R. Parks of the California commandery. Enlistment, Sir O'Neil assisted him as grand marshal. The installation was open to the public and was held in the commandery room.

Dr. L. L. Whitson was installed as commander, J. E. Vinson as generalissimo; E. A. Pagenkopp, as captain general; A. Hoffman, as senior warden; R. W. McKnight, junior warden; J. W. McCormac, prelate; A. N. Zerman, treasurer; B. Uttley, recorder; M. B. Wellington, standard bearer; Stanley Anderson, sword bearer; C. E. Smith, sentinel; Jack Lloyd, first guard; F. H. Cloyes, second guard, and C. E. Neuschwanzer, third guard.

REDUCE NUMBER OF MEN ON H. B. WORK

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 7.—Beginning next week, food for the unemployed will be given out at Chamber of Commerce headquarters as rations. Needy families will be supplied according to the size of the family. Distributions will be made only between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon. This was decided upon at the conference of the members of the city council and the welfare committee Tuesday afternoon. Chairman W. R. Osborn of the welfare committee announced that the number of unemployed men being given work each day would be reduced from 20 to eight, in accordance with an understanding reached by the council. He stated that the reason for reducing the jobs was that Street Superintendent Henry Wirth could not find work for the men and that the city funds were getting low.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

NEW METHOD TO DIAGNOSE CANCER FOUND

BERLIN, Jan. 7. (U.P.)—A new method of diagnosing cancer, which, it is expected, will be of great assistance in checking the disease in its early stages, is claimed by Dr. J. H. Fuchs, blood expert.

The Fuchs' method makes it possible to detect the presence of a pernicious swelling, or tumor, in the patient's body, through analysis of a small quantity of the blood. It is also possible to determine whether a condition of infection exists, or whether the tumor alone is present, and whether it is cancer or only the result of the infectious condition. Thus, it is claimed that one of the most difficult problems of cancer, the diagnosis in its early stages, and especially to determine whether a condition of infection exists, is near solution.

The Fuchs' method, which is the result of years of experimentation, lies in the discovery that the blood of a person suffering from cancer, remains unchanged under this analysis, while that of a healthy person is partially destroyed.

The blood is divisible into three parts: cells, serum, and fiber. Dr. Fuchs found that the blood fiber of a cancer sufferer maintained its form when mixed again with its own blood serum. On the other hand it slowly disintegrated when mixed with the blood serum of a healthy person, or even of one suffering from a disease other than cancer. This disintegration process can be measured exactly by the Fuchs' method, through analysis of the filtrate which is released in the process.

Years of Research
The last step required years of research before it could be brought to the point where measurements minute enough for practical diagnosis could be made by a process simple enough to be useful in an ordinary laboratory.

Dr. Fuchs made tests with more than 2800 cases, comparing his finding with clinical diagnosis. The results were completely successful in more than 90 per cent of the cases. Results were inexact only with cancer of the larynx and esophagus. These form a special field in cancer, but are somewhat easier of treatment.

Study Circle To Aid Lunch Room

BUENA PARK, Jan. 7.—The study circle of the Grand Avenue P. T. A. held its first meeting of the new year with Mrs. Edith Rayburn Wednesday afternoon. A business meeting was held and it was decided to discontinue the study group indefinitely in view of the help needed at the lunch room. A report on the lunch room was given by Mrs. J. H. Humphries and Mrs. Arthur Byers, who have had charge since its beginning. A call has been received for boys' clothing and any donations will be appreciated by the P. T. A.

EDISON PLANS EXPENDITURES OF $11,000,000

Expenditures in excess of $11,000,000 including some work in Orange county of the Southern California Edison company for 1932, according to a statement issued today by Rodney Bacon, district manager, in announcing the company's general program for the new year.

"Conforming to the program which we laid down for ourselves two years ago, better than 50 per cent of our capital expenditures for 1932 will be used for the building up of distribution lines and substations," the statement said. "The total sum to be spent for distribution lines and substations is $7,025,000, which makes up the largest single item of the $11,357,000 budget."

"A sum of $1,862,000 has been set aside for the construction of transmission lines and an additional $233,000 will be used in construction and enlargement of transmission substations."

"While no new hydraulic generating plants are contemplated, a total of $181,000 has been appropriated for miscellaneous improvements and betterments in and around the major hydro-electric plants, where a total of 640,000 horsepower of water power is now in operation. Steam capacity will not be increased during the year. A total of only $41,000 has been appropriated for additions and betterments at the 600,000 horsepower Long Beach steam plant, which is the principal source of steam generated electricity for the company."

"In keeping with a new policy of the company, $297,000 has been set aside for the purchase of land and construction of commercial offices. The transportation department of the company will spend approximately $159,000 during 1932 in the maintenance of garage equipment and for the purchase of new rolling stock as needed."

LA HABRA GIRL'S MARRIAGE REVEALED

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Coming as a complete surprise to her many friends and acquaintances in La Habra, was the announcement yesterday of the marriage of Miss Ruth Marie Phillips, only daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Sheridan Phillips, of 411 North Walnut street, DLa Habra, to Teddy Gilbert, San Luis Obispo rancher. The announcement was made by the parents.

The ceremony took place December 26 at the Methodist parsonage in San Luis Obispo, with the Rev. Harold Baker, pastor of the church, officiating. The simple single ring ceremony was used in the presence of a very few friends of the couple at San Luis Obispo.

Mrs. Gilbert came to La Habra with her parents in 1916 when her father was pastor of the local Methodist church. She attended the La Habra grammar school from which she is a graduate. She attended the San Bernardino High school until her senior year, when the family was transferred to National City and she is a graduate of the Sweetwater High school of the class of 1927. After taking a post graduate course in business training at the latter school she returned with her parents to La Habra and entered the Fullerton Junior college, where she completed her course.

With the founding of the La Habra Valley Building and Loan association, she became the first assistant secretary, where she remained for the past two years.

CONDUCT FUNERAL OF LESLIE ENGLISH

FULLERTON, Jan. 7.—Funeral services for Leslie English, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. English, former La Habrans, were held today. Leslie died early Tuesday morning from injuries received when he fell from a sled while on an outing with friends at Camp Baby last Wednesday. He was removed to the Fullerton hospital after medical treatment for several days at his home but passed away shortly before an operation to save his life was to have been performed.

He attended the Fullerton Union High school and was a member of Troop No. 93 of the Fullerton Boy Scouts. He was the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jones, of La Habra, and with his parents was a former resident of La Habra, moving to Fullerton Park a year ago.

Funeral services were held from the funeral parlors of McAulay-Sutars and burial was at Whittier Heights cemetery.

Sewage Plan To Be Discussed At Center Meeting

ORANGETHORPE, Jan. 7. —Walter Humphreys, Fullerton engineer, will explain the report and investigation recently made for the Orange County farm bureau on sewage reclamation which is now being studied by a joint committee from the farm bureau and representatives from the various cities in the Santa Ana basin. Reports from center and county farm bureau officers will be on the program, Ray J. Starbuck, president, announces.

16,545 Books And Magazines Loaned By Library In Year

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Anna Garretson, librarian, gives several items of interest in her annual library report for 1931. During the month of December, 1384 loans were made by the library. July and August, with 1704 and 1843 loans, respectively, were the largest months the past year and the total for the year amounted to 16,545 loans in all, magazines and books.

The La Habra library was founded by the Woman's club in October, 1921, and was conducted three days each week in the Citizens National bank building, with members of the club taking their turn. In November, Mrs. Garretson was appointed as librarian and was paid a small sum each month from a fund made up by the various civic organizations of the town. After a trial of nine months the county took over the library and sent in more books and established a regular salary for the librarian. In 1923, the Woman's club through popular subscription bought the present building and the library was moved to the new location and now has a total of 2021 patrons.

PEACE PRAYER IS DISCUSSED IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, Jan. 7.—"Tonight our prayer is for peace," said the Rev. Graham Hunter as he began his sermon last night at the Christian church on the subject, "Prayer for International Goodwill and Co-operation" in the union week of prayer services sponsored by the Ministerial association in Fullerton this week.

The Rev. Mr. Hunter said that there are five types of prayer: Adoration, confession, thanksgiving, petition and intercession. He said that adoration was that prayer which reached out to God, God as the father of all nations, not merely the father of one particular nation. He remarked that this thought appeared to be the real foundation of the world peace movement. All nations are companions, he said, and urged his congregation "to draw near to God, knowing He will draw near to you."

In confession as referring to peace, he said it was first necessary to admit that war was a sin. War, he said, was caused by national pride, militarism or fear. The national pride which caused individuals to believe themselves superior to other races was wrong and a sin. France fears Germany, he said, and this fear must be made personal and confessed.

He said that the people could give prayers of "thanksgiving" to God who had lifted them out of their sins. He deplored the cynical thoughts in our country, the fact that there was a great sense of sin aboard in the land.

In the prayer petition, he said that it was God's wish that His children settle their arguments peacefully. This did not mean that nations should settle their disputes by means of gas bombs but rather should reach out and seek God's power, he said.

The prayer intercession was the raising of another burden and sorrow, not merely the shouldering of one's individual burdens, but rather "the shouldering of the cross by taking to heart the sufferings and sorrows of other people, of other races." This also could be done by personal prayer, the speaker said.

As Christians, he said, "we believe in prayer. We believe in personal prayers, we believe in peace and we believe that war is preventable. We believe in God, therefore we believe in peace. Prayer counts."

ART EXHIBIT FOR WESTMINSTER SOON

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 7.—The Laguna art exhibit which is an annual feature of interest in the local schools, the display being arranged for by the local Parent-Teacher's association, will be here in two weeks. This announcement was made by Mrs. Robert Erdman of the school faculty at the Parent-Teacher association meeting this week.

Announcement of the next P. T. A. study circle meeting for Wednesday afternoon, January 20, in the kindergarten room, was made. Mrs. Adams, Miss Ward and Mrs. Erdman of the first and overflow kindergarten rooms will be in charge of the discussion of the day.

A talk on safety was given by Harold Peterson, fifth grade teacher, and Mrs. Ned Clinton took up the subject "Child Welfare." Two numbers were played on the piano by Marvin Penhall. The fifth grade won the attendance prize for the meeting.

SPEAKER TELLS OF CANADIAN LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Refuting the propaganda that the eighteenth amendment is aimed at personal liberty and exploding the contention that government control of the liquor traffic in Canada has been a success, Dr. Mariah B. Armstrong, member of the Costa Mesa W. C. T. U., delivered an address yesterday over KREG. She spoke at the request of Mrs. Minnie V. Reid, president of the Costa Mesa organization. Her address in part was as follows:

"For 10 years due to propaganda intended to prejudice public opinion, many people have been led to form a confused idea that the Volstead act seeks to infringe upon their personal liberty. There is no truth in the charge. The Volstead act aims at the illicit traffic only pursuant to the Constitution."

"I was born in Canada and lived there over 54 years, experienced in many years of temperance work some of the tragedies occurring from the effects of open saloons, fighting among men and many times I have had to call the police to come quell the quarrels in the homes where both father and mother were drunk and the children crying."

"This is the monster that Canada has under 'government control' now. We did have it under control for a few years, when the saloons were closed, and our jails were empty and men went home with their wages, and had comfortable homes and money in the bank, but then whiskey dealers and breweries did not want that. They were losing money and so by plausible speeches, got the unthinking and weak knees to repeal our 'Kott Act' and let this monster loose again."

"Under so-called government control our jails are now over crowded. Sure, for the first offense it is a fine of $10 or 30 days in jail. They have no money so there is no alternative but to go to jail and the town or city supports the family. As you saw, so shall you reap."

"I was a charter member of the W. C. T. U. in 1872 and am a member still. I wish I had a clarion voice that could reach all over this United States and plead with every woman who has a vote to not fail in getting registered and then go to the polls and cast your vote for prohibition. Do not be careless in this matter. My husband and I came here in 1913 before the war, built our home and were naturalized in 1917. I shall work and pray that the time will speedily come when this fair land shall be freed from this evil traffic."

"We have God and right on our side and that is a majority, and if our W. C. T. U. will be much in sincere prayer and stand as one in this coming battle, no power on earth can overthrow us."

STANTON ENDEAVOR SOCIETY TO MEET

STANTON, Jan. 7.—Miss Helen Pool, of Star street, will entertain the Christian Endeavor society of the Church of Christ Friday evening. This is the first social held by the Endeavor society which has 17 members. Attendance at the society of the newly organized church is increasing. There will be election of Sunday school officers next Sunday. Sunday school will be at 9:30 o'clock.

RANCHER IMPROVED

LA HABRA, Jan. 6.—Charles Sawyer, rancher and fruit stand proprietor was removed to the hospital following an accident which occurred about a week ago. Mr. Sawyer will be confined to his home for several weeks because of internal injuries suffered.

About a week ago Mr. Sawyer and a companion were returning from Bakersfield with a load of fruit on a new truck. The brakes locked when they were on a steep grade and the truck plunged down a 500-foot embankment. Mr. Sawyer leaped from the truck before it left the highway and was seriously hurt. His companion stayed with the truck and escaped with only a few bruises.

DANCE ARRANGED BY GIRLS' CLUB

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Members of the Junior Girls club of the Woman's Improvement club met Tuesday evening at the home of Edith McClure and Mrs. E. E. McClure, their advisor.

Plans were made for a sport dance January 15 at the Woman's clubhouse and committees were appointed as follows: Decorations, Edith McClure, Lenore Graham, and Charlotte Ayers; refreshments, Charlotte Ayers, Anna Stanford and Anna Wolfe; orchestra, Edith McClure; house, Lovella Williams, Etelene Hawks and Maribel

Frantz; novelty dances, Marguerite Williams, Charlotte Ayers, Edith McClure, Elizabeth Akers, Etelene Hawks, Anna Stanford and advisors, Mrs. Eva Akers, Mrs. E. E. McClure and Mrs. J. I. Williams.

Plans were discussed for the program in March to be given at the regular meeting of the Woman's club. Mrs. McClure was delegated to outline the program for the girls.

It was decided that the annual May day dance this year would be called a Leap Year dance. This dance is an annual custom with the girls and is an invitational affair, with the guest list made up of those who have attended other club dances during the year.

Anna Stanford will be hostess to this group at her home on North Bluff street in February.

Present were Edith Hawkins, Lenore Graham, Lovella and Mar-

$42,554,000 IS ON STATE ROADS DURING 1931

A review of the activities of the California department of public works headed by Col. Walter E. Garrison was made public locally yesterday through P. A. Stanton, of Anaheim, member of the California highway commission. The report shows that a construction record was made with the completion of 803 miles of new roads and 115 public buildings.

The year's work exceeds by several million dollars the record of any former year. The division of highways, the report said, has transacted a business during 1931 that totals $42,554,000, which includes work under way, bids opened prior to January 1 and work carried over from 1930.

Converted into mileage terms the record shows 803 miles of completed or progressing improvement. The items making this total are the following: graded roads, 70 miles; untreated crushed rock surface, 59 miles; bituminous treated crushed rock surface, 454 miles; bituminous macadam pavement, 7 miles; Portland cement concrete pavement, 183 miles; asphalt concrete pavement, 15 miles.

The state highway system comprises 7281 miles, 3091 of which are paved, 1425 graded and merely surfaced with crushed stone, and 819 miles graded, leaving 1946 miles ungraded and unsurfaced, practically untouched.

"If the program is to go forward the present sources of revenue, majoring in the gas tax, must remain unimpaired," the report said. "It is cheerfully paid by the people and then quickly returned to them in improvements. Increasing demands for improved highways as well as the vast obligations already assumed by the state render utterly untenable any proposition that, directly or indirectly, would reduce full gas tax accruals to the highway division. The gas tax carries no bond interest. The roads go forward on a cash basis. There is an orderly plan working toward an ultimately completed system. There is a daily solvency of funds and a frank, open accounting. The pay as you go plan lays no burden on the property of today or tomorrow. The disbursing of 85 per cent of these millions to the ultimate laborer pays but does not increase taxes."

With variations in totals due to personal or local conditions between 1930 and 1931 men have been employed through the governor's relief employment program. The quotas are now in process of being brought to their maximum of 4000.

On December 30 the division of architecture had had under actual construction since January 1, 1931, a total construction value of $8,225,617, representing 177 projects. On December 16, 115 of these had been completed at a construction value of $4,420,098. During January bids will be called for on projects having an additional construction value of $681,000.

Denies Guilt On Assault Charge

H. G. Banfield, 1725 West Pine street, arrested several days ago on a charge of assault, appeared in police court yesterday before Judge J. G. Mitchell, pleaded not guilty to the charge and asked for a jury trial.

The trial was set for January 27, at 9 a. m. by the court and Banfield was released on his own recognizance pending that time.

Banfield was arrested by the complaining witness in the case, J. Williams, Santa Ana, who is said to be a special deputy sheriff. Williams claimed in the complaint that Banfield attacked him.

CITRUS WHITE FLY PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the fact has been established that Citrus White Fly, Dialeurodes citri, constitutes a menace to the citrus and persimmon industries of the State of California, and that this said species of Citrus White Fly, while known to be destructive to citrus and persimmons, also infests a number of other species of economic and ornamental plants, and

WHEREAS, the fact has been determined by the Director of Agriculture of the State of California from careful investigation and survey that Citrus White Fly exists in that portion of the State of California hereinafter described, and

WHEREAS, the presence of said Citrus White Fly has engaged the attention of the State Legislature causing said Legislature to provide for the destruction of any and all species of Citrus White Fly, their eggs, larvae and pupae, in any district where same may be found, and

WHEREAS, in order to eradicate Citrus White Fly wherever it may be found in California, it becomes necessary to destroy or to otherwise treat all host plants which are infested with Citrus White Fly or which there is cause to presume are infested with Citrus White Fly.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Dudley Moulton, Director of the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, by virtue of an act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled, "An act to provide for the eradication of Citrus White Fly in California by providing for the establishment by proclamation of Citrus White Fly Districts," which provides for the destruction or treatment of such host plants, defining the duties of the Director of Agriculture and of the County Agricultural Commissioners in relation to the provisions of this act, which same was approved May 23, 1925, and since designated as Chapter 474, Statutes of 1925, do, by this proclamation, hereby proclaim and declare that the Citrus White Fly is known to exist in this state included within the following boundaries:

1. The incorporated limits of the City of Santa Ana.

2. That adjoining area, including the City of Tustin, the boundaries of which follow: a line beginning at the city boundaries of Santa Ana and extending eastward along Santa Clara Avenue to Prospect, south on Prospect to its intersection with 17th, eastward on 17th to the intersection of the Southern Pacific right-of-way, south along the Southern Pacific right-of-way to its junction with Newport Avenue, thence southwest along Newport Avenue to the intersection of Dyer Road, and westward along Dyer Road to the intersection of the official city limits of Santa Ana, and following the city boundary around the city back to its intersection with Santa Clara Avenue; and

SLOT MACHINE QUESTION UP AT BEACH CITY

Formal attempt to authorize preparation of an ordinance to again license operation of slot machines in Laguna Beach, which was made by a member of the city council of the beach city last night, was defeated for lack of a second, but the proposal aroused considerable discussion, with divided opinion and promise of a battle on the subject at a future session of the council.

City Attorney Milburn Harvey, on whose recommendation and opinion that operation of the devices is illegal, resulted in repeal of the section of the ordinance licensing slot machines last summer, again ruled that they were illegal, but was informally instructed by a member of the council to draft an amendment so that their operation will again be sanctioned by the city.

Operation Reported
The matter came before the council when a report was made by Police Commissioner M. B. McMillan, that slot machines were now operating in the city without licenses, and asked if the council wished to have the machines banned.

Councilman Frank B. Champion, former mayor, declaring that the city needed the money, said he could see no objection to the machines and expressed the opinion that a license should again be imposed. The old license fee $40 annually and there were 23 machines in operation.

City Attorney Harvey when asked if they could run without a license, declared:

Says Gambling Devices
"It would be an easy matter to prove that they are gambling devices and could be put out of business as such."

Councilman C. R. Clapp said the main objection of some people to the machines is that it is necessary to put in a second nickel to get out the winning checks.

"You don't get anything out of them, so far as I can see," declared Mr. Champion. "I don't play them and I think they're the bunk, but if the other fellow can get a little exercise out of them, the city can use the money."

Proceed Slowly
Mayor J. E. Bishop thought the council should proceed slowly in the matter and give it full consideration.

Councilman George Wilson said he didn't think the machines did anybody any good, but he was willing to discuss it further.

"Shall I put the same amount, $40, in the new ordinance?" asked the city attorney.

"Better leave that blank," suggested Mr. Champion. "Maybe we can get more than that."

Mrs. Sarah Koppl Dies In H. B. Home

Mrs. Sarah Koppl, 63, passed away at her home in Huntington Beach early today. The body is at the Harrell and Brown Funeral home in Santa Ana pending funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Koppl is survived by four sons, Ernest Koppl, Long Beach; Leo Koppl, Huntington Beach; Joe Koppl, Palo Alto, and Frank Koppl, Norwalk, and two daughters, Mrs. Clarice Yost and Mrs. Martha Yost, Huntington Beach.

Court Notes

Charging that her husband attempted to stab her with a knife in the presence of their children on December 18, Dolores Quezada has filed suit for divorce in superior court against Jose Quezada. They married in 1919 at Los Angeles and separated on December 29, 1931, at Glorietta, the complaint said. Mrs. Quezada asked to be given custody of the two minor children.

Brown and Dauser company has filed suit in superior court against Fred J. Sidebottom, seeking to foreclose a mechanic's lien against Anaheim property and asking judgment for $840.53.

Seeking judgment for $1000 asserted to be due on a promissory note, the First National Bank of Santa Ana has brought suit in superior court against Ray and Alma Ashton.

John J. Ruedy, administrator of the estate of the late Arnold M. Ruedy, has brought suit in superior court against John F. Vogel, asking an accounting of the partnership business in which the defendant and Arnold Ruedy engaged before the latter's death on February 2, 1929.

L. E. Orr, guardian of the estate of Della Boggs, has brought suit in superior court against Frans Nelson and Sons, Inc. and others, seeking surrender of a $2000 note and $40 alleged to have been paid by Della Boggs on the purchase

CHURCH ELECTS NEW OFFICERS: REPORTS MADE

More than 200 members and friends of the First Christian church attended the annual meeting and dinner of the church which was held in the banquet room of the educational building of the church last night.

Annual reports made by officers and heads of the various departments revealed that the church has made good progress, that affairs of the congregation are in very good condition, all treasuries showing balances on hand with all bills paid.

After the election of three elders and 12 deacons, the church board for a three-year term, the board was re-organized for the year and the following officers were elected: chairman, M. D. Haskell; vice chairman, T. E. Williams; secretary, Paul Neff; treasurer, J. A. George; financial secretary, Mildred Pyatt.

Haskell succeeds, to the post as head of the board, T. D. Knights, who has served in that capacity over a period of 20 years, and who asked at the meeting last night to be relieved of the duties of the office.

During the dinner meeting an address was made by the Rev. William C. Cheverton, of Ventura, in which he asserted that the church should lead in an optimistic attitude toward the future and should strengthen faith in God and God's plan for the world.

"Two new names were added to the roster of the church board as a result of the election last night, others being re-elected to their posts. The new members are Charles Hill and Allen Snipes.

OFFER UNIVERSITY EXTENSION COURSES

Several university extension courses are to be opened in Santa Ana and Anaheim in the near future, it was revealed today by Mrs. Golden Weston, member of the committee in charge of arrangements for these classes.

The courses are to be given at the University of California at Los Angeles, and will involve a registration fee of $1 and a part of the extension division of course fee of $12. Classes, meeting places and instructors are as follows:

Applied psychology, January 11, Fremont school auditorium, 4 to 6 p. m.
Dr. Elizabeth Sullivan; general geology, January 12, room 253 junior college, 7 to 8:30 p. m.; Horace A. Scott; methods in teaching nature study, January 13, Anaheim Union high school, 7 to 9 p. m. A course in contemporary world history is also being contemplated and will be offered if there is any popular request for it.

ORAL SURGERY IS DISCUSSED FOR DENTISTS

Following the golf tournament yesterday afternoon in which Dr. John Wehrley won the first leg in play for the California Dental Cup members of the Orange County Dental association were entertained at a banquet at Santa Ana Country club. Dr. C. V. Schutz, of Anaheim, president of the association, presided during the banquet and introduced the speaker.

Dr. John W. Wilson was the principal speaker talking on oral surgery and post-operative treatment. An interesting demonstration of the violet ray also was featured during the program. The banquet program was arranged by the entertainment committee comprising the following members: Dr. A. H. Tyrell and Dr. C. M. Baker, both of Orange.

Dr. Harvey M. Spears, Santa Ana, was chairman of the golf committee with the following members assisting him: Dr. C. M. Baker, Orange; Dr. F. H. Houck, Anaheim; and Dr. H. G. Howe of Fullerton. Dr. Wehrley won the California Dental Cup with a low net of 75 and in addition to the cup won the prize offered by the Orange County Dental Laboratory for the best average low score for the year. Dr. M. M. Menges of Fullerton, won the blind bogey match and Dr. Carl P. Tomkins, Anaheim won the match play against par three down.

PROGRAM ARRANGED

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 7.—A new program for the King's Herald, junior missionary society of the Wintersburg Methodist church, is planned. The "African Bush" is the name of the program, which includes the taking of an African name by each of the 15 members of the group. African games will be played during social hours and the African food served at a party which is scheduled for the closing feature of the contest.

DR. WHITSON HEADS SANTA ANA TEMPLARS

Following a dinner at 6:30 p. m. attended by 250 members and their wives, Santa Ana Commandery No. 36, Knights Templar, installed new officers in the Masonic temple here last night under the direction of Grand Commander Aubrey R. Parks of the California commandery. Enlistment Sir O'Neil assisted him as grand marshal. The installation was open to the public and was held in the commandery room.

Dr. L. L. Whitson was installed as commander, J. E. Vinson as generalissimo; E. A. Pagenkopp, as captain general; Asa Hoffman, as senior warden; R. W. McKnight, junior warden; J. W. McCormac, prelate; A. N. Zerman, treasurer; R. Uttley, recorder; M. B. Wellington, standard bearer; Stanley Anderson, sword bearer; C. E. Smith, sentinel; Jack Lloyd, first guard; F. H. Claves, second guard; and C. E. Neuschwanzer, third guard.

REDUCE NUMBER OF MEN ON H. B. WORK

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 7.—Beginning next week, food for the unemployed will be given out at Chamber of Commerce headquarters as rations. Needy families will be supplied according to the size of the family. Distributions will be made only between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon. This was decided upon at the conference of the members of the city council and the welfare committee Tuesday afternoon. Chairman W. R. Osborn of the welfare committee announced that the number of unemployed men being given work each day would be reduced from 20 to eight, in accordance with an understanding reached by the council. He stated that the reason for reducing the jobs was that Street Superintendent Henry Wirth could not find work for the men and that the city funds were getting low.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

NEW METHOD TO DIAGNOSE CANCER FOUND

BERLIN, Jan. 7. (U.P.)—A new method of diagnosing cancer, which, it is expected, will be of great assistance in checking the disease in its early stages, is claimed by Dr. J. H. Fuchs, blood expert.

The Fuchs' method makes it possible to detect the presence of a pernicious swelling, or tumor, in the patient's body, through analysis of a small quantity of the blood. It is also possible to determine whether a condition of infection exists, or whether the tumor alone is present, and whether it is cancer or only the result of the infectious condition. Thus, it is claimed that one of the most difficult problems of cancer, the diagnosis in its early stages, and especially with intestinal cancer, is near solution.

The Fuchs' method, which is the result of years of experimentation, lies in the discovery that the blood of a person suffering from cancer, remains unchanged under this analysis, while that of a healthy person is partially destroyed.

The blood is divisible into three parts: cells, serum, and fiber. Dr. Fuchs found that the blood fiber of a cancer sufferer maintained its form when mixed again with its own blood serum. On the other hand it slowly disintegrated when mixed with the blood-serum of a healthy person, or even of one suffering from a disease other than cancer. This disintegration process can be measured exactly by the Fuchs' method, through analysis of the nitrate which is released in the process.

Years of Research
The last step required years of research before it could be brought to the point where measurements minute enough for practical diagnosis could be made by a process simple enough to be useful in an ordinary laboratory.

Dr. Fuchs made tests with more than 2800 cases, comparing his findings with clinical diagnosis. The results were completely successful in more than 90 per cent of the cases. Results were inexact only with cancer of the larynx and esophagus. These form a special field in cancer, but are somewhat easier of treatment.

Study Circle To Aid Lunch Room

BUENA PARK, Jan. 7.—The study circle of the Grand Avenue P.T.A. held its first meeting of the new year with Mrs. Edith Rayburn Wednesday afternoon. A business meeting was held and it was decided to discontinue the study group indefinitely in view of the help needed at the lunch room. A report on the lunch room was given by Mrs. J. H. Humphries and Mrs. Arthur Byers, who have had charge since its beginning. A call has been received for boys' clothing and any donations will be appreciated by the P.T.A.

EDISON PLANS EXPENDITURES OF $11,000,000

Expenditures in excess of $11,000,000 including some work in Orange county of the Southern California Edison company for 1932, according to a statement from R. H. Ballard, president, released today by Rodney Bacon, district manager, in announcing the company's general program for the coming year.

"Conforming to the program which we laid down for ourselves two years ago, better than 50 per cent of our capital expenditures for 1932 will be used for the building up of distribution lines and substations," the statement said.

"The total sum to be spent for distribution lines and substations is $7,026,000, which makes up the largest single item of the $11,397,000 budget.

"A sum of $1,362,000 has been set aside for the construction of transmission lines and an additional $283,000 will be used in construction and enlargement of transmission substations.

"While no new hydraulic generating plants are contemplated, a total of $181,000 has been appropriated for miscellaneous improvements and betterments in and around the major hydro-electric plants, where a total of 640,000 horsepower of water power is now in operation. Steam capacity will not be increased during the year. A total of only $41,000 has been appropriated for additions and betterments at the 600,000 horsepower Long Beach steam plant, which is the principal source of steam generated electricity for the company.

"In keeping with a new policy of the company, $297,000 has been set aside for the purchase of land and construction of commercial offices. The transportation department of the company will spend approximately $155,000 during 1932 in the maintenance of garage equipment and for the purchase of new rolling stock as needed."

LA HABRA GIRL'S MARRIAGE REVEALED

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Coming as a complete surprise to her many friends and acquaintances in La Habra, was the announcement yesterday of the marriage of Miss Ruth Marie Phillips, only daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Sheridan Phillips, of 411 North Walnut street, DLa Habra, to Teddy Gilbert, San Luis Obispo rancher. The announcement was made by the parents.

The ceremony took place December 26 at the Methodist parsonage in San Luis Obispo, with the Rev. Harold Baker, pastor of the church, officiating. The simple single ring ceremony was used in the presence of a very few friends of the couple at San Luis Obispo.

Mrs. Gilbert came to La Habra with her parents in 1916 when her father was pastor of the local Methodist church. She attended the La Habra grammar school from which she is a graduate. She attended the San Bernardino High school until her senior year, when the family was transferred to National City and she is a graduate of the Sweetwater High school of the class of 1927. After taking a post graduate course in business training at the latter school she returned with her parents to La Habra and entered the Fullerton Junior college, where she completed her course.

With the founding of the La Habra Valley Building and Loan association, she became the first assistant secretary, where she remained for the past two years.

CONDUCT FUNERAL OF LESLIE ENGLISH

FULLERTON, Jan. 7.—Funeral services for Leslie English, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. English, former La Habra, were held today. Leslie died early Tuesday morning from injuries received when he fell from a sled while on an outing with friends at Camp Baldy last Wednesday. He was removed to the Fullerton hospital after medical treatment for several days at his home but passed away shortly before an operation to save his life was to have been performed.

He attended the Fullerton Union High school and was a member of Troop No. 93 of the Fullerton Boy Scouts. He was the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jones, of La Habra, and with his parents was a former resident of La Habra, moving to Fullerton Park a year ago.

Funeral services were held from the funeral parlors of McAulay-Sutera and burial was at Whittier Heights cemetery.

16,545 Books And Magazines Loaned By Library In Year

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Anna Garretson, librarian, gives several items of interest in her annual library report for 1931. During the month of December, 1384 loans were made by the library. July and August, with 1704 and 1843 loans, respectively, were the largest months the past year and the total for the year amounted to 16,545 loans in all, magazines and books.

The La Habra library was founded by the Woman's club in October, 1921, and was conducted three days each week in the Citizens National bank building, with members of the club taking their turn. In November, Mrs. Garretson was appointed as librarian and was paid a small sum each month from a fund made up by the various civic organizations of the town. After a trial of nine months the county took over the library and sent in more books and established a regular salary for the librarian. In 1923, the Woman's club through popular subscription bought the present building and the library was moved to the new location and now has a total of 2091 patrons.

PEACE PRAYER IS DISCUSSED IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, Jan. 7.—"Tonight our prayer is for peace," said the Rev. Graham Hunter as he began his sermon last night at the Christian church on the subject, "Prayer for International Goodwill and Co-operation" in the union week of prayer services sponsored by the Ministerial association in Fullerton this week.

The Rev. Mr. Hunter said that there are five types of prayer: Adoration, confession, thanksgiving, petition and intercession.

He said that adoration was that prayer which reached out to God, God as the father of all nations, not merely the father of one particular nation. He remarked that this thought appeared to be the real foundation of the world peace movement. All nations are companions, he said, and urged his congregation "to draw near to God, knowing He will draw near to you."

In confession as referring to peace, he said it was first necessary to admit that war was a sin. War, he said, was caused by national pride, militarism or fear. The national pride which caused individuals to believe themselves superior to other races was wrong and a sin. France fears Germany, he said, and this fear must be made personal and confessed.

He said that the people could give prayers of "thanksgiving" to God who had lifted them out of their sins. He deplored the cynical thoughts in our country, the fact that there was a great sense of sin aboard in the land.

In the prayer petition, he said that it was God's wish that His children settle their arguments peacefully. This did not mean that nations should settle their disputes by means of gas bombs but rather should reach out and seek God's power, he said.

The prayer intercession was the assuming of another's burden and sorrow, not merely the shouldering of one's individual burdens, but rather "the shouldering of the cross by taking to heart the suffering and sorrows of other people of other races." This also could be done by personal prayer, the speaker said.

As Christians, he said, "we believe in prayer. We believe in personal prayers, we believe in peace and we believe that war is preventable. We believe in God, therefore, we believe in peace. Prayer counts."

ART EXHIBIT FOR WESTMINSTER SOON

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 7.—The Laguna art exhibit which is an annual feature of interest in the local schools, the display being arranged for by the local Parent-Teacher's association, will be here in two weeks. This announcement was made by Mrs. Robert Erdman of the school faculty at the Parent-Teacher association meeting this week.

Announcement of the next P.T.A. study circle meeting for Wednesday afternoon, January 20, in the kindergarten room, was made. Mrs. Adams, Miss Ward and Mrs. Erdman of the first and overflow kindergarten rooms will be in charge of the discussion of the day.

A talk on safety was given by Harold Peters, fifth grade teacher, and Mrs. Ned Clinton took up the subject "Child Welfare." Two numbers were played on the piano by Marvin Penhall. The fifth grade won the attendance prize for the meeting.

SPEAKER TELLS OF CANADIAN LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Refuting the propaganda that the eighteenth amendment is aimed at personal liberty and exploding the contention that government control of the liquor traffic in Canada has been a success, Dr. Mariah B. Armstrong, member of the Costa Mesa W.C.T.U., delivered an address yesterday over KRIG. She spoke at the request of Mrs. Minnie V. Reid, president of the Costa Mesa organization. Her address in part was as follows:

"For 10 years due to propaganda intended to prejudice public opinion, many people have been led to form a confused idea that the Volstead act seeks to infringe upon their personal liberty. There is no truth in the charge. The Volstead act aims at the illicit traffic only pursuant to the Constitution.

"I was born in Canada and lived there over 54 years, experienced in many years of temperance work some of the tragedies accruing from the effects of open saloons, fighting among men and many times I have had to call the police to come quell the quarrels in the homes where both father and mother were drunk and the children crying.

"This is the monster that Canada has under government control now. We did have it under control for a few years, when the saloons were closed, and our jails were empty and men went home with their wages, and had comfortable homes and money in the bank, but when whiskey dealers and brewers did not want that, they were looking money and so by plausible speeches, got the unthinking and weak knees to repeal our 'Kott Act' and let this monster loose again.

"Under so-called government control our jails are now over crowded. Sure, for the first offense it is a fine of $10 or 30 days in jail. They have no money so there is no alternative but to go to jail and the town or city supports the family. As you sow, so shall you reap.

"I was a charter member of the W.C.T.U. in 1872 and am a member still. I wish I had a clarion voice that could reach all over this United States and plead with every woman who has a vote to not fall in getting registered and then go to the polls and cast your vote for prohibition. Do not be careless in this matter. My husband and I came here in 1913 before the war, built our home and were naturalized in 1917. I shall work and pray that the time will speedily come when this fair land shall be freed from this evil traffic.

"We have God and right on our side and that is a majority, and if our W.C.T.U. will be much in sincere prayer and stand as one in this coming battle, no power on earth can overthrow us.

STANTON ENDEAVOR SOCIETY TO MEET

STANTON, Jan. 7.—Miss Helen Pool, of Star street, will entertain the Christian Endeavor society of the Church of Christ Friday evening. This is the first social held by the Endeavor society which has 17 members. Attendance at services of the newly organized church is increasing. There will be election of Sunday school officers next Sunday. Sunday school will be at 9:30 o'clock.

RANCHER IMPROVED

LA HABRA, Jan. 6.—Charles Sawyer, rancher and fruit stand proprietor was removed to this hospital yesterday from the hospital following an accident which occurred about a week ago. Mr. Sawyer will be confined to his home for several weeks because of internal injuries suffered.

About a week ago Mr. Sawyer and a companion were returning from Bakersfield with a load of fruit on a new truck. The broken truck, when they were on a steep grade and the truck plunged down a 500-foot embankment. Mr. Sawyer leaped from the truck before it left the highway and was seriously hurt. His companion stayed with the truck and escaped with only a few bruises.

DANCE ARRANGED BY GIRLS' CLUB

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Members of the Junior Girls club of the Woman's Improvement club met Tuesday evening at the home of Edith McClure and Mrs. E. E. McClure, their advisor.

Plans were made for a short dance January 15 at the Woman's clubhouse and committees were appointed as follows: Decorations, Edith McClure, Lenore Graham, and Charlotte Ayers; refreshments, Charlotte Ayers, Anna Stanford and Anna Wolfe; orchestra, Edith McClure; house, Lovilla Williams, Etteleene Hawks and Maribel Frantz; novelty dances, Marguerite Williams; clean-up, Lenore Graham, Lovilla Williams and Edith McClure.

Plans were discussed for the program in March to be given at the regular meeting of the Woman's club. Mrs. McClure was delegated to outline the program for the girls.

It was decided that the annual May day dance this year would be called a Leap Year dance. This dance is an annual custom with the girls and is an invitational affair, with the guest list made up of those who have attended other club dances during the year.

Anna Stanford will be hostess to this group at her home on North Hiatt street in February. Present were Edith Hawkins, Lenore Graham, Lovilla and Marguerite Williams, Charlotte Ayers, Edith McClure, Elizabeth Akers, Etteleene Hawks, Anna Stanford and advisors, Mrs. Eva Akers, Mrs. E. E. McClure and Mrs. J. L. Williams.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Two world championship wrestling matches were held on consecutive nights... the first was in Chicago... the second was in Columbus, O... John Pesek wrestled Joe Stecher there the night of Dec. 21... The names are a little different... but what are names or championships in wrestling... Maybe there were a few other heavyweight wrestling championship matches on these two nights here and there... We blush to think of not having noticed them.

ONE WAY TO HELP
The hullabaloo about football perils recalls an incident that occurred in the Army-Navy game. In the third period Referee Tom Thorpe stopped the play and insisted that Lou Bryan, Navy tackle, be removed from the field. No one else had noticed that Bryan had been injured on a previous play. Bryan insisted he was all right, but Thorpe had his way and Bryan was sent to the sidelines. Observant officials can do much to save young men from possibly lasting injuries.

Six or seven of the A's have been playing basketball during the winter. The other day Connie Mack issued a proclamation calling for a cessation of such activities by his young men. That reminds us, some of the A's thought they were playing basketball in St. Louis last October. Maybe Mr. Mack noticed it, too.

CALLS YOU! PANGLE STARS UNAPPRECIATED

With the preface that it was virtually impossible to distinguish between the abilities of many of his men, notably in the line, "Tex" Oliver today picked for the Register two all-star teams, composed of outstanding players he has coached at Santa Ana high school. Oliver came here in the fall of 1926. His selections were made at the request of this newspaper.

Three members of the past season's Southern California championship squad—Captain Floyd Blower, Lawrence Lutz and Douglas Hinesly—were named on Oliver's first team, and several others mentioned on the second squad.

Coach Oliver readily agreed that the 1931 team was the finest he ever coached, but he hesitated to name the best lineman or back to come under his direction at Santa Ana. He said there was little to choose between four backs and five linemen he had coached.

His team follows:
Ends—Warren ("Red") Cooke and Hideo Higashi.
Tackles—Lawrence Lutz and Charles ("Chuck") Ehrhorn.
Guards—Douglas Hinesly and Bruce Tarver.
Center—Curtis Youel.
Quarter—Al Reboin.
Halfbacks—Floyd Blower and Harold Pangle.
Fullback—Jim Musick.

Oliver said that Youel and Pangle were the most underestimated football men he had coached. "These boys were not even mentioned on the Coast league's annual all-star team, but were two of the finest players I have seen in my privilege to handle," Oliver added. "No all-star team would be complete without them in my opinion. I believe they'll vindicate my judgment before they are through with college competition."

Asked about the best back to come under his scrutiny, Coach Oliver said it was almost impossible to pick between Reboin, Musick, Blower and Pangle, because they were all different types. For general all-around versatility, Reboin may have had an edge although this may have been due to the fact he was a regular three years.

Reboin was without doubt the best off-tackle ball carrier; Musick the best punter; Blower the best passer and pass-receiver, and Pangle the best blocker. But all four could do everything well, especially block.

Oliver's second team follows:
Ends—Francis Harvey, George Warner, Roger Hearn, Paul Perinich and Jimmie Lash.
Tackles—Harry Clayton, Miles Norton, Joe Preininger and Don Reither.
Guards—Andy Utick, LeRoy DeSmet, John Casey, Dallas Reichstein, Kenneth Mander-scheid.
Center—Earl Halderman, Clark Engel, Wayne Vance.
Quarter—Francis Conrad, Jack Blakeney.
Halfbacks—Fred Bell, Duane Larrabee, Ralph Selway.
Fullback—Bill Dugger, Jack Fredericks, Clarence Spencer.

"I couldn't decide between many of these men although they possibly rank in just about the order I've given them. They were a mighty fine football players, and deserving of places on any all-star team I might nominate. It will be noticed, also, that I have mentioned but few boys who still have a year to play. Their time will come next season.

Stanford To Know 'Pop's' Status Soon

PALO ALTO, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Whether Glenn S. (Pop) Warner remains as coach at Stanford university will be determined at a meeting to be held tonight by the Stanford board of athletic control.

It was expected that Warner will either complete plans to sign a new five-year contract or make a definite announcement concerning "several more lucrative offers" he has received.

A move by the board to replace "Chuck" Winterburn, varsity basketball coach, with James (Rabbit) Bradshaw, freshman coach, and to shift Winterburn into Bradshaw's, was also expected to be decided. Warner, it was rumored, disapproves the change.

SAINT QUINET OFF TOMORROW FOR SAN DIEGO

Headed by Coach Bill Cook, Santa Ana Hi's untitled basketball squad goes to San Diego tomorrow for its first Coast Preparatory league contest of the schedule.

Although 10 of the 14 players making the trip were members of the Saint's Southern California championship football team, there is no reason to believe they will pursue the success on the basketball floor that was theirs on the gridiron.

An unmarred record in five games has placed the Latter Day Saints, just another team during first-half competition, far ahead of the pack in the race for second-half honors in the Santa Ana Church league basketball race. The Mormons had little trouble winning their fifth game, 23-12, from the United Brethren at the Y.M.C.A. last night.

There is another league team that will have something to say before the Saints win the championship, however, and that is the First Christian quintet, with two victories, no defeats. The Christians, because of the United Brethren withdrawal, have played only two games to the Latter Day Saints' five. The highlight of the second-half comes next Wednesday night when the two undefeated leaders meet.

In the other game last night, Costa Mesa's Community five downed the United Presbyterians, 24 to 14.

Friday's schedule: January 8—Orange Ave. Christian vs. First

JONES BUILDS COURSE OF FAMOUS HOLES

The perfect golf course, a dream of Bobby Jones, peerless emperor of fairway and green, is shown in the making at Augusta, Ga. It is designed by Jones and Dr. Alister Mackenzie, upper right, and is a combination of 18 of the most famous holes Bobby played in his march to the peak of the golfing world.

Kearns signed for many heavy-weight championship fights as manager of Jack Dempsey between 1919 and 1923. But to land a heavy-weight championship contract after eight years absence from championship councils, is a real accomplishment.

When Kearns, after his break with Dempsey, announced he would be back at the top, dictating heavy-weight affairs after Dempsey was gone and forgotten few people took his words seriously. And when he took over Mickey Walker, who had lost the welterweight title to Pete Latzo, and began ballyhooing him as a heavy-weight title contender, folks shook their heads and agreed that poor old "Doc" Kearns was slightly barmy.

Barmy he may have been, but he has forced Walker's acceptance as an opponent for Champion Max Schmeling. And if Walker wins, Schmeling will be set for Dempsey, whose association with Kearns has run the gamut from inseparable friendship to bitter enmity.

The bout will be over a 15-round route in Madison Square Garden arena at Miami Feb. 26 with George Blake of Los Angeles as referee.

CHAMPION S. A. TEAM TOASTED BY S. A. FANS

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER (NEA Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Down in the heart of the magnolia country near Augusta, Ga., Bobby Jones is building what he believes will be the nearest perfect golf course in the world.

It will be patterned after the famous holes Jones has played in America and abroad. The "tough holes" at St. Andrews, Oakmont, Royal St. George's, Mamaroneck and other well-known links and courses will be there. The new course is to be called the Augusta National, and is being financed as a non-profit organization by Jones' friends in Wall street and the south.

Dr. Alister Mackenzie, a native Scot, is cooperating with Jones in the engineering problems the new course offers. Mackenzie has been responsible for making it hard for inaccurate golfers on both sides of the Atlantic where he has designed links and courses. The Cypress Point, near Del Monte, Calif., is regarded as his outstanding achievement in America. Mackenzie has designed more than 400 courses.

The site of the new course is a beautiful tract of land first land-purchased by the Beckmans family many years ago when they came to it, a virgin forest of pine and oak. A row of magnolia trees more than 100 years old, forms an entrance to the estate.

The new Jones course will carry out his idea that more ability to slug a ball over the hills and far away constitutes good golf. The National will be 6,300 yards in length from the workaday tees, 6700 yards for championship play.

The aim is to provide a layout where each shot must be sharp, and a test of the player's knowledge of his clubs and stroking ability. Short, accurate hitting will have an advantage over power for which direction often is sacrificed. Also, at Augusta, there will be small chance of making up ground lost through errors.

Membership in the National is being carefully drawn from all parts of the country. Several Canadian and English sportsmen also will be invited to join. It is my understanding that a group of Wall street people has underwritten the venture, assuring its completion.

There will be no women members, but the rules of the club positively admit them to the course as guests of members. It is the idea of Jones and his associates to make the place, in capital letter, A GOLF COURSE, and to exclude social functions under club auspices.

One of the unusual features will be an actual 18th hole for playoffs, to be called the "quits" hole. Jones says the course will be ready for play by December this year.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Although Ellsworth Vines, national tennis champion, plans to drop his studies at the University of Southern California next September, it will be for financial and not tennis reasons, he announced today.

After it had been rumored he would quit college to devote more time to tennis, Vines said: "I want to distinctly understand that my leave of absence from school has nothing to do with playing tennis. As to the Davis cup matches, I have not even been invited to play. In fact, I have no tennis plans for this spring except a local Southern California Tournament."

BABE TO SEEK NEW CONTRACT FOR $80,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The familiar Ruth vs. Ruppert battle was on in earnest today.

Babe Ruth, home run hitter, has told his boss, through the newspapers, Col. Jake Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, that he believes he should get a two-year contract at $80,000 per annum.

The Babe points out that he had a splendid season in 1931 and believes that his record entitles him to a renewal of his old contract. "If I'd had a bad year I'd consider taking a cut," Ruth said. "But I had a great year. I may not get a two-year contract but I don't think I ought to take a cut especially if it is a one-year contract that is made."

Ruth weighed 225 1-2 pounds today. This is his normal playing weight and is below his customary winter weight.

NEVERS' PRO TEAM TO PLAY AT BEACH

LONG BEACH, Jan. 7.—Big league football with an All-American flavor will be served here Saturday afternoon when Ernie Nevers brings his Chicago Cardinals to Stephens field to battle the San Pedro Longshoremen, powerful independent eleven of the harbor district.

A backfield of Roy (Bullet) Baker, former Santa Clara and U. S. C. star, at quarterback; John Blood, all-professional halfback from the championship Green Bay Packers, and Mayes McLain of the Haskell Indians at halves and Ernie Nevers at fullback will start for the Chicago team.

Among the crack linemen slated to appear in front of Nevers and his great backs are Duke Slater, All-American tackle from Iowa in 1921; Harry Ebding, St. Mary's great end of 1930; Jake Williams and Keesling, All-Pro guard and tackle, respectively; Ray Suenes, Charley Diehl and Corwin Artman.

Hunting and angling licenses issued this year will be effective from January 1, 1932, to June 30, 1933.

The state division of fish and game has adopted this plan to put the licenses on the basis of fiscal years. The 18-month licenses will be sold at one and one-half times the regular fee. Following June 30, 1933, the licenses will be for 12 months at their regular rates.

According to a tentative check of income from these licenses in 1932, it is estimated the total will be well below that of 1930.

VIC RUEDY NAMED BALL CLUB MANAGER

Vic Ruedy, former Western and Three I league professional league player, today took office as 1932 manager of Anaheim's night baseball club. He succeeds George Pace, leader in 1929 and 1930, who recently moved from Anaheim to Riverside.

Ruedy was appointed at a meeting of the Anaheim night ball commission late yesterday. His election was not unexpected. Ruedy has made his home in the Anaheim vicinity for many years.

CLUBMEN AGAIN TAKE MEASURE OF DONS, 21-16

Man-to-man defense, used to advantage in their first victory over Santa Ana, was responsible for a second triumph, 21 to 16, which Coach Vic Baden's Orange Concordians scored over Coach Bill Foote's junior college Dons in a return basketball engagement here last night.

While holding the Dons scoreless in the first quarter, Concordia chalked up a 5-0 lead in the first 10 minutes which it held during the remaining three periods, the score running 16-6, 19-13, and 21-16. Although Harvey Leichtfuss and Hank Fitchsen, star forwards, were removed with four personal fouls, the clubmen made up for this offensive weakness with Scott guarding, which held Emmett Seacord, "Hen" Thilery, Maxson Stull, Russell Sullivan and all the other Santa Ana in check.

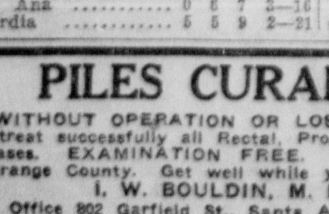

Coach Foote used Harold Spangler at three different positions, placing him at center, forward and guard, respectively. Harry Holmes filled in at guard for Ellwood Lindley, whose illness will keep him out for several days. Others who saw action for Santa Ana were Fred Brooks, Jimmie Hall, Earl Homan, Hideo Higashi, and Mike Santa Cruz. Out of this group the Don men must select a starting combination to go up against Chaffey in the Orange Empire conference opener here Saturday night.

PRESENT SKIT AT PLACENTIA CLUB SESSION

PLACENTIA, Jan. 7.—In clubrooms decorated in large quantities of red-berried shrubs and poinsettias, Mrs. Albert Launer, president of the Southern District Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. E. E. Smith, president of the Orange county federation, with other members of Placentia Round Table club, who hold positions of honor in federation work, were honor guests at a luncheon and afternoon entertainment given by members of Round Table club yesterday.

Other honor guests were Mrs. T. L. McFadden, Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Mrs. George Story, Mrs. A. W. Miller and Mrs. Frank Rosow.

Luncheon tables were decorated in rose chrysanthemums. Members of the chrysanthemum section were responsible for the entertainment at the luncheon program and also were hostesses for the afternoon session.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Launer introduced their officers during the luncheon.

Members of Booklovers' section who presented a skit, a burlesque on a regular meeting of the section, were Mrs. William J. Travers, chairman of the section, Mrs. W. W. Blackmer, Mrs. Fred Tuffree, Mrs. C. A. Cuff, Mrs. J. D. Sturdevant, Mrs. E. E. Knight, Mrs. Mary Timmons, chairman of the section, A. M. Christensen and Mrs. William Wallop. In addition to those members, Mrs. E. D. Long and Mrs. Mary Sumwalt received in the afternoon.

Included on the afternoon's program were original musical compositions by the author, Mrs. Carl H. Seaman of Yorba Linda, pianist, and Miss Elsie Moore, Fullerton, contralto, who sang a group of Mrs. Seaman's spirituals.

Mrs. Seaman received an unusual ovation as she completed her numbers. She played as piano selections a group of compositions from foreign lands and Miss Moore sang "Echoes From the Cottonfields" and a new composition, "Take Me Back to Dixie."

Mrs. Timmons presented Mrs. J. M. Cloyes, county chairman of literature, who talked on "Appreciation of Literature." Mrs. J. Willis Bennis read "Deepening Stream" by Dorothy Canfield Fisher.

Announcement was made that the card party scheduled for January 15 has been indefinitely postponed.

Mrs. Louis Jacobsen presided at the business session where reports of committee chairmen and department heads were heard.

Luncheon hostesses were Mrs. James Forbes, Mrs. Story, Mrs. Emma Whitaker, Mrs. M. J. Hamilton, Mrs. O. J. Dyckman, Mrs. J. P. O'Brien.

H. B. Endeavor Members To Give 2 Plays

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 7.—The Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church will present two short plays tonight at the church, the public is invited. There will be no charge for admission, but a silver offering will be taken.

"Soft Shoulders," the first offering on the program is a comedy in which the following Endeavorers will take part: John Tinsley, Evelyn Salisbury, Todd Bettner, Dorothy Salisbury and Mary Adams.

"A Perplexing Situation" in two short acts is the other play and has the following cast: Howard George, Elenore Locke, Ardell Hall, Margaret Maxey, Dorothy Reed, Mary Edith Huff, Virginia George, Juanita Wentze, Russell Bettner, Violet Smith, Marshall Tinsley, Kenneth Potts and George Honold.

OFFICERS FOR KIWANIS CLUB ARE INDUCTED

BUENA PARK, Jan. 7.—With Arthur F. Corey, lieutenant governor of the fourth division of Kiwanis, and a member of the local club, as installing officer, officers of the Buena Park Kiwanis club were inducted last night at the Woman's clubhouse.

New officers are: Leon T. Wilsey, president; David Lemke, vice president; J. A. Warlamont, secretary; Herbert Bixby, treasurer; directors, David Lemke, George Trapp, Keith Morse, J. A. Warlamont, Edward Marxen, Ralph Cummings, Leon T. Wilsey, Richard Nelson, Carl Brenner and W. D. Canon. Edward Marxen, retiring president, becomes district trustee.

Community singing was led by Arthur Corey, with Carl Brenner at the piano. The turkey dinner was served by the Woman's club.

Frank Wright of Whittier, past lieutenant governor of the fourth district, discussed the economic situation.

The program included two violin solos by Billy Rose, 11-year-old boy from Westminster, accompanied by Mrs. O. C. Hare of Westminster. Marie Warlamont gave a group of dance numbers, accompanied by Catherine Steward of Anaheim and Carl Brenner. A reading was given by Charles Peters. Three dance numbers were given by Lucille Beckworth of Hollywood. Miss Virginia Long of Anaheim accompanied her, R. D. Temple and Carl Brenner played a duet on violin and piano.

Committees appointed by President Wilsey are as follows: Membership and classification, George Trapp, chairman, Herbert Bixby, R. D. Temple and Richard Nelson; finance and budget, W. D. Canon, chairman, Henry Schmitz, Herbert Bixby and J. A. Warlamont; house and reception, James Dunbar, Bert Wells and Fred Simpson; inter club relation, Edward Marxen, chairman, Richard G. Nelson and George Trapp; Kiwanis education, Arthur Corey, chairman, Ed Marxen and the Rev. W. I. Newman; music, Carl Brenner, chairman, W. D. Canon, R. D. Temple, J. A. Warlamont and Arthur Corey; program, R. D. Temple, chairman, George Trapp, the Rev. W. I. Newman and Richard G. Nelson; publicity and public affairs, Henry Schmitz, chairman; Carl Brenner, Bert Wells and Arni Nelson; under privileged child and vocational guidance, Dave Lemke, chairman, Arthur F. Corey, the Rev. W. I. Newman and Harry Horn; sick and community welfare, J. A. Warlamont.

CHURCH PLANS MEMBER DRIVE FOR LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—An interesting program of work for the next three or four months was planned and accepted by the official board of the Methodist church Tuesday evening. The first on this program is the anniversary dinner March 15. This is known as the $5 banquet and is being given with the hope of raising $1000 on the church debt. An executive committee will be in charge of this event, with the Rev. H. O. Simmons as chairman.

To obtain a speaker and prepare the program, E. E. Proud and J. A. Scofield were selected; dinner committee, Mrs. H. R. Rich, president of the Ladies' aid; tickets, Gordon Cameron, chairman, and H. A. Randall, M. J. Pickering, Ross Haddon, Claude Ridgeway, J. A. Scofield, I. E. Wiede, Mrs. H. R. Rich, Mrs. E. P. Davis, Mrs. G. G. Schupbach and Edgar Luehm; publicity, Mrs. U. R. Phillips, Miss Marguerite Williams and Mrs. Ross Haddon; social hall arrangements, E. E. Proud, A. C. Dunavant and M. A. Stearns.

The Rev. Mr. Simmons stated that they are planning a special service for Sunday, March 13. Home Coming day is planned and the executive committee will have this in hand and send out the invitations to all former members of the church.

During the month of March the board expressed its willingness to cooperate with the plans of the Ministerial association for Loyalty week in attempting to get the membership out as near 100 percent as possible. Beginning February 1, a personal evangelism campaign will be conducted as a forerunner to the intensive campaign for getting members out in March.

The goal set for the membership is 300 and that means that 65 new members must be secured. On the membership drive, districts will be defined and captains appointed for the various districts. Those appointed for this work were the Rev. Mr. Simmons, chairman, H. A. Randall, I. E. Wiede, superintendent of the Sunday school, Mrs. E. Junior and Intermediate departments; Mrs. I. E. Wiede, of the primary department, Leslie Baker, of the Epworth league, Ethel Mae Wiede, of the Oxford league, and M. J. Pickering, Mrs. E. P. Davis, J. L. Morris and Ross Haddon.

Special evangelist services have been arranged for a period of two weeks beginning April 3, with Dr. Lawrence A. Meade, nationally known evangelist, in charge.

Gym Classes At Harbor High Will Open This Evening

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 7.—Business men of the Newport Harbor section are to gather tonight at the gymnasium of the Newport Harbor union high school, where basketball, indoor baseball and other games will be played. It is expected that teams will be organized and perhaps schedules worked out for the season in the different games. Later, it is said, outdoor games may be tried by the business men during periods when the grounds are not being used by the students. The classes will meet every Thursday night.

Mont, chairman, Harry Horn, James Dunbar, J. P. Simpson, Henry Warren and Arni Nelson; historian, the Rev. W. I. Newman; sergeant at arms, Harry Horn; song leader, Arthur Corey.

After the business meeting, Billy Heger's orchestra furnished music for dancing.

P-T. A. MEMBERS URGED TO SHOP FOR ENTERTAINMENT; STUDY CLASSES BEGIN SOON

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Mark S. Jones, of South Pasadena, chairman of the better films committee for the southern district of the P-T. A. and state chairman for the California Federation of Women's clubs, was the speaker at regular meeting of the La Habra P-T. A. yesterday afternoon at the Washington grammar school. Mrs. Jones was introduced by Mrs. J. Williams, of Anaheim.

Mrs. Jones spoke of the project of the American Legions and auxiliaries to reduce the working day to six hours and the working week to five days. This, she said, will give more leisure time to people and makes the choice of entertainment more important than ever.

Mrs. Jones urged members to "shop for your moving picture entertainment." She urged special matinees for the children. At the business session of the P-T. A., minutes of the executive board meeting held just previous to the general meeting showed that plans were made for the Orange County Teachers' and Principals' banquet to be held in Anaheim.

Check of the number of parents present gave the attendance banners for this month to Mrs. S. L. Treff of the Lincoln school and to R. O. Wright and Miss Avis Elders' rooms in the Washington school.

Superintendent of Schools E. R. Berry announced his plans for the parents' study classes, to be started within the next two weeks. The study will be divided into three divisions, first, a lecture period, with talks by Mr. Berry and also by speakers chosen from an available list; second, period, round table discussion and the third period will be a summary or check up of various phases brought out in the course of study.

BUENA PARK, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Charles McNight entertained the Delta Card club at her home on Darlington avenue Wednesday evening. Chrysanthemums were used in decorating the rooms. Three tables were in play with Mrs. L. A. Sopha receiving first prize and Mrs. Phyllis Elliot the second prize. At a late hour the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Present were Mrs. E. C. Dillow, Mrs. Steward Andrews, Mrs. Don Gehlry, Mrs. Austin Newton, Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. L. A. Sopha, Mrs. Percy Smith, Mrs. Noel Dodd, Mrs. William Gage, Mrs. Phyllis Elliot.

At the present time there is collection of specially loaned books featuring Russia, which will remain here for a limited time only as they are being circulated among the different libraries of the county. Those wishing to read these books should secure them at once. The following is a list of the most prominent of the collection: "The Education of a Princess," by Marie, grand duchess of Russia; "A Ford Crossing Soviet Russia," by J. S. Conity; "New Russian Primer," by M. Hlin; "The Challenge of Russia," by Sherwood Eddy; "Humanity Uprooted," by Maurice Hinus; "The Romance of Leonardo de Vinci," by Dimitri Merejkowski; "Outlining of Russian Literature," by Maurice Baring; "The Russian Theater," by Oliver Saylor; "The Bystander," by Maxim Gorky; "Fathers and Children," by Ivan Turgenev; "The Captain's Daughter," by Alex Pushkin; "Russian Fairy Tales," from "The Schazki of Polesov"; "The Man Lenin," by Isaac Don Levine.

New books received by this library since January 1 are as follows: "The Three Black Pennys," J. Hergeshelmer; "Golden Women," R. Cullum; "Queen Judson" and "Captain Dan's Daughter," J. C. Lincoln; "Trail of the Axe," R. Cullum; "Vanishing Point," C. Davidson; "Crystal Cops," Mrs. G. Albertson; "Anansi's Daughter," A. Gardner; "Black Knight," E. M. Dell; "Fuddhead," Mark Twain; "Fortune to Share," V. Young; "Sparks Fly Upward," D. LaTarge; "Mexico," S. Chase; "Ticket and Show Card Designing," F. C. Benson; "Trub's Diary," J. T. Foote; "Simon Called Peter," R. Keable; "The X Y Z of Communism," Ethan T. Colton; "Uncle Sam's Attie," Mrs. M. L. Davis.

GAMES FOR SCOUTS

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Troop No. 93, La Habra Boy Scouts, met in regular session Tuesday evening at the Scout Hall, with R. O. Wright and T. L. Fullinwider in charge. Nature study, woodcraft and leathercraft will be resumed by the Scouts. Several tests were passed and the evening was devoted mostly to games. Eighteen Boy Scouts and three visitors were present.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. One bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, acting when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 G. M. Co.

CLUB TOLD OF LUMBER WORK IN NORTHWEST

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 7.—Thrilling exploits in the lumber districts of Michigan, Oregon and British Columbia were told to members of the Newport Harbor Service club at their weekly luncheon meeting yesterday at the Twin Palms cafe by George King, well known Huntington Beach resident.

King, who was introduced by Charles Crawford, program chairman for the day, is a native of Michigan, where he went into the lumbering business as a young man, later attaining the status of an expert timber cruiser in the northwest.

H. L. Sherman, recently elected president for the ensuing six months, took his seat yesterday, succeeding Dr. Conrad Richter. Both made appropriate short talks. Other new officers for the six months of 1932 are: J. P. Greeley, first vice president; Dr. H. E. Stahler, second vice president; A. J. Twist, secretary, and Lew H. Wallace, treasurer.

Sherman named the following members as committee chairmen for his term of office: Entertainment, S. H. Davidson; attendance, E. L. Moore; house, Theo. Robins; reception, Dr. Conrad Richter; publicity, S. A. Meyer; inter-city, Leroy P. Anderson; tall-twister, R. Hodgkinson, and deputy tall-twister, Harry D. Hyde.

The new club president asked all club members to attend the annual meeting of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, slated for the dining room of the Newport Harbor union high school the evening of January 21, which he referred to as "the community banquet of the year."

Miss Rose Noy and the hostess, Mrs. Charles McNight.

Mrs. Austin Newton will be the hostess January 27.

Pupils Give Operetta At School Soon

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—"The Treasure Hunt" is the title of an operetta to be given by the upper grade pupils of the Washington grammar school the evening of January 15 for the benefit of the P-T. A. fund. The music is under the supervision of Prof. Frank L. Barrows and Miss Gertrude Beam is in charge of the speaking parts. The story of the operetta deals with a plot of students who are kept out of the fraternity to scare those in the club into allowing all to become members. Mysterious notes are sent to the members indicating a hidden treasure in a wooden glen. When the club members go to seek the treasure they are met by pirates and gypsies.

The choruses will be made up of the Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs of the school and others taking part are Edwin Koontz, Junior Hungerford, Victor Chambers, Raymond Berry, Adeline Harp, Dick Cheering, Elva Welch, Katherine Luehm and Barbara Steelman. Mildred Campbell will be the piano accompanist for all the music.

Dinner Dance Of Kiwanians Jan. 21

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—The Kiwanis club installation and dinner dance has been set for January 21 at the Woman's clubhouse. Members of last year's board and other officers of last year will be in charge of the program, dinner and dance.

League Members Back from North

YORBA LINDA, Jan. 7.—Miss Olive Gale, of Yorba Linda, and Miss Evelyn Reynolds, of McFarland, both members of the Yorba Linda Methodist church Epworth league, were among 138 delegates who attended the mid-winter institute at Camp Sierra near Fresno.

INSTALLATION OF LODGES DUE FRIDAY NIGHT

TUSTIN, Jan. 7.—Joint public installation of the newly elected officers of the Pythian Sisters lodge and the Blue Ribbon Council of Sunshine Girls will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night in the K. P. hall, according to announcement made today by Mrs. Effie Matthews.

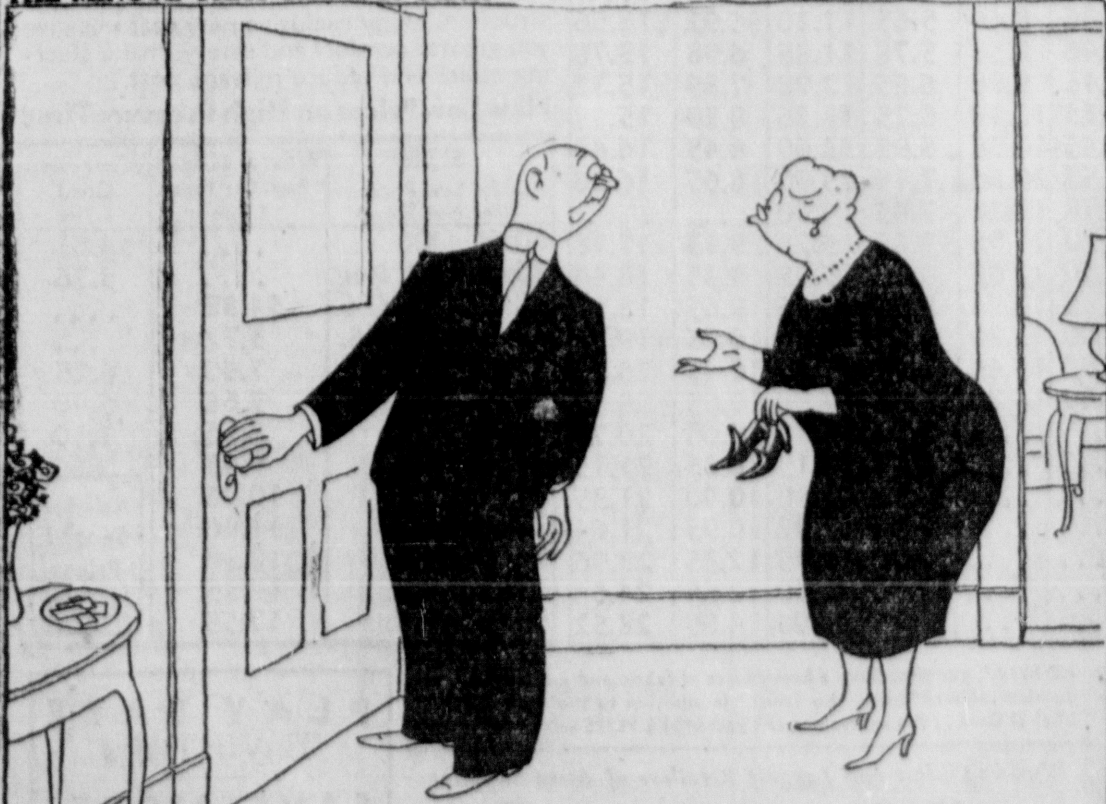

Officers taking the obligations of the Pythian Sisters are past chief, Mrs. Hazel Harbour; most excellent chief, Mrs. Vera Hawkins; most excellent senior, Mrs. Bertha Trickey; most excellent junior, Mrs. Vera Comer; manager of the temple, Mrs. Sarah Matthews; mistress of records and seal, Mrs. Ora Collar; mistress of finance, Mrs. Carrie Stearns; protector of the temple, Mrs. Emma Christiansen; outer guard, Mrs. Yvette Shelden. The ceremonies will be in charge of Mrs. Effie Matthews.

Sunshine Girls who will be installed in office by Miss Josephine Brader are as follows: Royal princess, Evelyn Furtsohl; past royal princess, Josephine Brader; royal exchequer manager, Evelyn Stone; royal recorder, Lois Stone; charity, Lois Kiser; friendship, Alle Pannell; royal prelate, Eleanor Leiby; royal guide, Hazel-belle Comer; mystic one, Vivian Maynard; royal sentinel, Barbara Kiser; royal warden, Genevieve Kind; trustee, Ida Alderman; council, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hibbett, Mrs. Vera Comer and Ralph Stone, and royal adviser, Mrs. Jessie Kiser.

Included on the program which will follow the installation are a fancy drill by the degree staff, a sash drill by the Sunshine Girls, a violin solo by Mrs. James Blee, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Korff, and a flute solo by Mrs. Korff, accompanied by Mrs. Blee. Refreshments will be served.

Late News From Orange And Nearby Towns

VENEZUELA IS DISCUSSED AT LIONS SESSION

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—The only way the people of Venezuela may choose a new president is to fight to install a new one, declared the Rev. J. F. Davenport in a talk given before the Lions club yesterday.

The Rev. Mr. Davenport chose as the topic of his talk that of government in the South American countries.

The speaker has lived in Venezuela many years and is a missionary to that country. He is spending a furlough in Orange.

"The government of Venezuela changes about every two years," said the Rev. Mr. Davenport, "and all South American countries have a republican form of government. The reason for the change is that things go wrong and a depression is the result, the people are an area that a change of government will have a beneficial result on the country."

"There are no ex-presidents in South America. If they are thrown out by the army and they leave the country. The South American, like the European, believes in the small ruler class. South American republics are based on the principles expounded by Aristotle and think that trained men as leaders, who administer the state for the benefit of all, are to be preferred to groups chosen by the people. Their idea is really to have a sort of monarchy of government under the form of a republic. If a republican form of government were maintained, it is felt that there would be a tendency to decentralize control while the government which has a form more nearly like a monarchy has a tendency to centralize control."

"The government of Venezuela is represented by two houses, which meet in April. Representatives are elected from 53 states and the members of congress are appointed by the president. Thus, the only way to get rid of the president is by revolution as the members of congress are his friends."

"Venezuela is practically unknown to the world as it is off the regular lines of travel. Trade is principally between other South American countries and Europe. Government owns all oil land in the country, consequently the roads of the country are the best imaginable.

"If a person is thrown in jail on any charge he is considered guilty until he is proven innocent. The state is not required to prove anything. If the prisoner has no friends he is out of luck as no bed or meals are furnished during the five days he must remain in jail before his trial."

"Oil from Venezuela can be shipped to New York cheaper than it can be from Texas or Oklahoma, although it is of a poorer quality."

"Simon Bolivar was the liberator of South American countries and began his fight for freedom from Spanish rule in 1800. In 1812 a great earthquake occurred and the natives were told that nature resented the revolution. Bolivar wore one medallion, a picture of George Washington and carried a lock of hair of the first president of the United States, who was his ideal."

Visiting Lions were Carl Monahan and L. H. Hoskins of Anaheim. Welfare work was discussed and the position of the Lions club in the matter of caring for transients was outlined. It was brought out that the club believed that preference should be given local people in the way of help.

Mexico Studied by P. E. O. Members at Afternoon Session

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—P. E. O. members who attended the business meeting held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Robert Johnson in her home on Handy street devoted much of the time to a study of Mexico. Three groups were formed for study, with Mrs. S. E. Hallman, Mrs. S. R. Fitz and Mrs. Flora Johnson as leaders.

During the business meeting, Mrs. F. M. Gulick, president, was in charge. Mrs. Townsend, of Garden Grove, was a guest of the day.

OFFICERS FOR LUTHERANS IN OLIVE ELECTED

OLIVE, Jan. 7.—The annual meeting of St. Paul's Lutheran church was held this week at the school house. Herbert Meierhoff, Walter Meyer and Elmer Heim were received as voting members. The treasurer, William E. Paulus, read the financial statement for the year, which showed that the congregation had been able to close the year with a slight balance.

A. W. Schmid reported for the committee in charge of the Christmas program arrangements and the Rev. E. H. Kreidt read the statistical report of the congregation. The congregation numbers 245 souls, 161 communicant members and 49 voting members. Fifty-five children are attending the parochial school and 46 children are enrolled in the Sunday school.

Albert Leichfuss was given his release to Immanuel Lutheran congregation in Orange.

In the election, the following officers were re-elected: Carl Gollin, president; Herman Meierhoff, vice president; William E. Paulus, treasurer; C. O. Heim, elder; Ben Lemke, elder, in place of Herman Lemke; Robert Paulus and H. O. Luchau, school board, in place of George Boehner and Walter Timken. Robert Paulus and C. O. Heim were elected to represent the congregation in district financial matters.

It was resolved to complete the grading of the school ground this year, beginning work Saturday.

The following members were present: Carl Gollin, Ben Lemke, Jake Timken, Herbert Meierhoff, A. W. Schmid, Albert Leichfuss, Walter Krase, Herman Boehner, August Lemke, George Boehner, William F. Paulus, Robert Lemke, Herman Lemke, W. Timken, Herman Meierhoff, Ed Brelje, William E. Paulus, H. O. Luchau, William Gollin, Robert Paulus, E. H. Kreidt, C. O. Heim and Ed Meierhoff.

Ed Stanley, Mrs. A. E. Hughes, Mrs. Art Streech, Mrs. Homer Baker, Mrs. W. LeRoy Bell, Mrs. Louis DeLong, Mrs. John Regan, Mrs. Harold T. Brewer, Mrs. W. M. Tipple, Mrs. H. H. Gardner, and the hostess, Mrs. H. D. Nichols.

GREED IS GIVEN BLAME FOR CONDITIONS IN WORLD TODAY; DISARMAMENT NECESSARY

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—"Greed is at the bottom of the situation which confronts the world today," declared J. F. Burke, editor of The Register in the first of a talk on "The Disarmament Conference and the Restoration of World Peace," given at the Epworth hall last night. The talk was given following a 6:30 o'clock dinner and marked the opening of church nights, which are to continue for the following five Wednesday nights.

"At the present time," said the speaker, "from 16 to 20 billions of dollars are invested in foreign countries by financiers, who insist that where their money is placed the United States must send an army to protect it. There is a close connection between disarmament and all the work toward it and the condition that we and other nations are facing—that of the condition relating to unemployment."

"People now see the greed which has brought about the present economic situation. I recall when oil men who had interests in Mexico almost forced the United States into war in the protection of their interests. The solution of disarmament is the solution of the restoration of confidence."

To eight millions of men are to eight million a of men are walking the streets looking for work, while granaries are full, machine shops are full, and men go hungry.

"I am glad that the Rev. L. V. Lucas made a statement in which he quoted a writer as saying that he hoped for prosperity but he hoped that prosperity would not come back until steps had been taken to prevent a period of depression like that of the present time."

"We are looking toward the coming conference in Geneva in February for the solution of disarmament. It has only been recent years that nations have had great standing armies. The greatest army Napoleon officered was one of 450,000 men with which he invaded Russia. Germany followed the example of France."

Huge Amount For War

"In 1914 a tremendous amount was spent in war for armament and yet now twice as much is being spent as in a time of war. In America three times as much has been spent. We go wild about the amount of money spent by France in preparations for war but America has spent $150,000,000 more than any other nation."

"At the time the peace treaty was made at the close of the World war, the treaty provided that Germany must disarm. Germany objected, declaring the requirement was not fair. Statesmen then declared that Germany was but the forerunner of other nations in a disarmament program and Germany wanted this statement made clear. It was made clear." Here Mr. Burke read the letter of Clemenceau to the German treaty delegates promising disarmament. "We must disarm or prove we are dishonorable," the speaker said.

"We have had some movements looking toward disarmament. In the League of Nations, provisions have been made toward disarmament. At the Washington conference delegates proceeded to eliminate a part of the navy."

"At Geneva, disarmament was defeated by a representative who. It was afterward found, represented some of the big ship building concerns."

"As a result of the war the United States became a real naval factor and after the London conference the United States was found to have more tonnage than any other nation."

"When you hear about the president trying to destroy the navy, do not let it worry you. With the present armament, the United States is going to have all the navy it very well can use. When Senator Burton proposed to make the use of poison gas impossible in warfare, 28 nations signed the agreement but the United States was not one of them. We ought to feel that we are not leading the nations as we should."

"There are many who do not want disarmament. I am not so sure that the chairman of the delegates chosen to represent the United States at the disarmament conference, favors disarmament. Those in control in Japan do not want it. What is taking place in Manchuria is injurious to our cause at Geneva."

Want Security

"Nations want security," declared the speaker as he emphasized the fact that the disarmament conference was but a short distance in the future. "Nations want security as all men want security, as the man out of a job wants security. Our hearts and minds should be at Geneva."

Don't Take Pills For Constipation

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels without making the liver discharge its excess bile. That's why the trouble returns in a day or two and you have to swallow more pills.

What every constipated person needs is a good liver tonic like Plantax to thoroughly cleanse the digestive system of all food secretions and at the same time restore the torpid, lazy liver to proper working order. When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, coated tongue, yellow skin, sour stomach, gas, bilious attacks or other symptoms of constipation and liver trouble. Plantax is made from the juices of harmless medicinal plants—Nature's own remedies—that act in a mild, easy way without weakening or irritating the organs. Try it tonight. Large bottle at any good drug store.

WELFARE WORK OUTLINED FOR P. T. A. BOARD

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—Welfare activities of the past several weeks and of the near future occupied the attention of members of the Orange City Council P. T. A. who attended the all day meeting held yesterday in the home of Mrs. Herbert J. Sisson, 261 South Olive street.

George C. Sherwood, district superintendent of schools, and Mrs. C. H. Adams told of the many families in the community who have been cared for since Christmas. It was announced that a special sewing room has been set aside at Intermediate schools. Sewing machines will be supplied and members of the association will gather there to sew for needy families of the school. All materials or clothing to be made over will be gratefully accepted by the mothers, Mrs. Adams, chairman of the committee in charge, said.

The meeting followed a delectable covered dish dinner served at an early afternoon hour, with two long tables providing the setting for the event. Mrs. Sisson had used the holiday theme in decorating, arranging many red-berried shrubs and roly poly apple Santas at attractive intervals.

Mrs. Carl Sutton, president, was in charge of the session. Miss Rachel Williams of the Intermediate school thanked the group for co-operating in making Christmas costumes for the holiday affairs in which the students took part. Also, she announced that the P. T. A. chorus will meet Tuesday evening at the Intermediate school. All interested are invited to attend. Announcement was made that the fourth district P. T. A. will have an all-day session January 21 at Buena Park. Luncheon will be served and a worthwhile program is planned.

Present to share the hospitality of the Sisson home were Miss Vera Jones, Miss Rachel Williams, Mr. Sherwood and Mesdames H. G. Joost, C. G. Reck, C. E. Wood, C. C. Hatch, A. C. Schoenfeldt, L. L. Williams, F. F. Irwin, J. T. Winget, F. A. Lentz, Carl Sutton, Charles Robinson, and C. H. Adams.

The annual ham dinner will be held at the next meeting of the city council P. T. A., when Mrs. Adams will be hostess.

Sewing Circle Of Church Meets

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—An evening of sewing was enjoyed Tuesday by members of the Friendly circle of the Mennonite church, who met as guests of Mrs. John Ward in her home at 352 North Shaffer street. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour.

During the short business session, in charge of the president, Mrs. Clyde Pentecost, plans for the next meeting were made. It was announced that Mrs. George Campbell will be hostess in her home in Santa Ana at 919 West Second street when the group meets the evening of February 2.

Control Area Established In Citrus Pest Campaign

ENTOMOLOGIST HERE TO HEAD CONTROL WORK

Detailed information regarding the campaign now being conducted here against the citrus white fly was made public today by D. B. Mackie, head of the division of entomology in the state department of agriculture, and Deputy Agricultural Commissioner Dixon Tubbs.

Tubbs has been delegated by Horticultural Commissioner A. A. Brock of Orange county to represent his office and also has been selected as local state representative in this area for the purposes of the campaign. Mackie has established headquarters here and will remain until the present treatment of host plants is completed.

A control area for the fly campaign has been proclaimed by Dudley Moulton, state director of agriculture, including the city of Santa Ana and an adjoining region including the city of Tustin.

A spray campaign is under way in which every infested host plant or suspected host plant will be treated to prevent spread of the pest. The time is opportune at present because there are no adult flies which could move to surrounding areas. Three crews are working on the job and altogether there are 30 men carrying on the work.

Commercial Groves
Mackie and Tubbs made it clear that bearing commercial citrus groves will be sprayed only in the immediate vicinity of the infestation. Fumigation will be depended upon in other areas and fumigation crews are now working night and day, they said.

Cost of the spraying will not be borne by property owners. The state has appropriated $55,000 for the work. It will be advisable to include all host plants in certain parts of the area for the first treatment, the officials said.

With each crew is a "clean up man" whose duty it is to wash up sidewalks, walls and so on after the spraying has been done. Residents will be advised carefully about closing windows and taking the washing off the lines before work begins. A man from the state department is with each crew.

The infestation was discovered here in September and the emergency spraying campaign started at once in the infested area.

There will be no detrimental effects on the plants sprayed except that blossoms will be stained by the spray, the experts said. A two per cent oil spray, identical with that used for regular treatment of citrus scale insects, is employed.

Host Plants Listed
All inspectors in the county agricultural department began a special investigation of the extent of the infestation as soon as it was discovered and this is now practically completed.

Bougainvilleas and camellias are to be treated only when they are close to citrus trees. Gardenias, however, must be treated wherever found, as they are preferred hosts and always heavily infested.

Both evergreen and deciduous plants are hosts to the citrus white fly. The evergreen hosts are as follows: gold dust plant, trumpet creeper, bougainvillea, box, Japanese box, camellia, night blooming jasmine, day blooming jasmine, Mexican orange, lime, Seville orange, tangerine, grapefruit, lemon, citron, orange, coprosma, escallonia (three varieties), rubber tree, kumquat, cape jasmine, English ivy, English holly, yellow jasmine, Grecian laurel, Portugal laurel, English cherry laurel, Japanese privet, glossy privet, California privet, European privet, Oregon holly grape, toyon, ivy leaf geranium, scarlet firethorn, narrow leaf firethorn, rose, four varieties of veronica and laurustinus.

The following deciduous plants are hosts: tree of heaven, Boston ivy, double scarlet hawthorn, English hawthorn, flowering quince, Japanese persimmon, native persimmon, apple, Texas umbrella tree, pomegranate, soap tree, lilac and grape.

District Determined
Boundaries of the control area, in which host plants will be sprayed, are as follows: the incorporated limits of the city of Santa Ana, and that adjoining area including the city of Tustin, the boundaries of which follow: a line beginning at the city boundaries of Santa Ana and extending eastward along Santa Clara avenue to Prospect, south on Prospect to its intersection with 17th, eastward on 17th to the intersection of the Southern Pacific right-of-way, south along the Southern Pacific right-of-way to its junction with Newport avenue, thence southwest along Newport avenue to the intersection of Dyer road, and westward along Dyer road to the intersection of the official city limits of Santa Ana, and following the city boundary around the city back to its intersection with Santa Clara avenue.

Three other control areas have been established in the state, Mackie said today, including all of Sacramento, Marysville, Yuba City, Colusa and parts of Gridley and Live Oak, where spray crews are now conducting campaigns similar to the one that is in progress here.

ADVERTISING COURSE TO BE GIVEN IN S. A.

A course in the principles of advertising is to be given in Santa Ana, according to an announcement just made by the extension division of the University of California.

The aim of the course is to help members of the class to the solution of their advertising problems. Factors to be considered are construction of the advertisement, distribution, space buying, dealer cooperation and sales methods, the consideration of different advertising media and analysis of their merit. Practical problems will be worked out in the class.

The instructor is George William Robbins, a graduate of Harvard University graduate school of business. Robbins has had experience in both sales work and in advertising and is at present associate professor of economics at the University of California at Los Angeles. The class will meet on Tuesday, 7 to 9 p. m., in room 18 in the Lathrop Junior High school. The first meeting is open to visitors and anyone interested in the subject is invited to be present. The class will meet once a week for a period of eight weeks. The first meeting will be held January 19.

Morning Services Part of Revival

Morning meetings have been started at the Southside Church of Christ, as a new feature of the evangelistic services which are being conducted by the Rev. Claude McClung, Fort Worth, Tex., evangelist. According to the Rev. C. C. Houston, pastor, the morning service will continue throughout the campaign, except on Saturdays, starting each day at 10:30 a. m. A large group was present for the first morning service he said.

Plans have been made for all day services next Sunday, with the afternoon meeting to start at 2:30 o'clock.

Last Sunday night the congregation of the Broadway and Walnut street Church of Christ, of which the Rev. James Sewell is pastor, attended the evangelistic meeting. The congregation also is joining in the day services.

SUPPER ARRANGED
LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—The Keystone Sunday school class of the Methodist church is planning a "jintney" supper for Friday evening, January 8, and will serve from 5 to 7 p. m. Members of the committee include Mrs. P. P. Davis, Mrs. Sterling M. Hood, Mrs. J. I. Williams, Mrs. C. E. Trent and Mrs. C. G. Schuepbach.

The members of the Junior church will have a skating party Saturday afternoon at the social hall. Mrs. H. O. Simmons, who is in charge, states that the affair will begin at 2 p. m.

LIBRARY LISTS REFERENCES ON FAMILY BUDGET

In connection with problems of family finance, which formed the basis of discussion at the first mission of the Forum group in the adult education course at the junior college, Miss Jeanette McFadden, city librarian, today announced a list of references which will be of value to persons interested in family budgeting.

The references, which are listed below, may all be had at the public library. They include books as well as magazine articles and publications in specialized journals.

WHERE FLOODS MAROON 300 PERSONS

This remarkable air view of one of the principal highways into Glendora, Miss., shows why 300 persons in the little town are marooned. The overflow of the Tallahatchie river has blocked this bridge and other avenues of escape. A railroad has sent hundreds of cars as near as possible to the town to house refugees who come out by boat.

HOW TO GET MOST FOOD VALUES WITH LEAST MONEY TOLD BY HEALTH OFFICER

By K. H. SUTHERLAND, M. D.
Orange County health officer

Many people are wishing, in these difficult times, that they might know something more of the real value of food stuffs. By the term "value," we do not mean simply the money cost of the various foods, but also the return they can give in the way of materials for the building of human blood, bone, brain and muscle.

To give adequate returns, foodstuffs must contain sufficient amount of starches, sugars, fats and such albuminous foods as are found mainly in meat, eggs, cheese and milk. They must contain a proper balance of vitamins which are necessary to promote health, aid growth and prevent diseases.

There are certain foods which can properly be called staples, which much hold an important place in any family diet. These are: milk, cereals or breakfast foods, bread, butter, root and green vegetables, and fruits. These are the basic essentials of our food supply and they are especially important in the child's diet. Fortunately, they are comparatively cheap and while they do not provide much variety, they will sustain health. A more complete diet will contain in addition: eggs, cheese, meat and fish foods, butter and other fats, and sugar.

Again, the value of a food is enhanced or impaired by the way it is prepared. The fat in milk, cream or the yolk of egg is in its best form for human use because in these foods it is broken up into fine particles. Starches are not digested in raw form but must be thoroughly cooked by long subjection to high temperatures. Meat should be lightly cooked to permit of easy digestion. The use of large quantities of sugar makes its own digestion difficult and lessens the ease with which other foods mixed with it are digested.

The parents who is especially interested in the food supply of the family should remember also that when choosing the manufactured foods, the lowest priced food, unless backed by quality is apt to be more expensive in the long run. It is always well to purchase prepared foods which have the guarantee of a well-recognized business.

La Habra Pupils Organize Teams

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Miss Ruth Dickey of the Washington grammar school, coach of girls' athletics, announces that 14 volleyball teams have been organized among the girls of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades and that competitive tryouts will be played among these teams to determine the champion team.

Captains for the various teams are, Charlotte Waer, Marie Bowers, Mildred Everett, Katherine Ogilvie, Rose Gusman, Marie Benardreau, Edna Cook, Lois Ellis, Pauline Barnett, Mary Weisel, Beulah Bell, Lois Willey, Ione Brown and Mary Francis Hodson.

Lane soccer for the boys is announced by Coach R. O. Wright. These teams are made up of the seventh and eighth grade boys. Captains of the eighth grade teams are Edwin Kozits, for Mrs. West's room and Calvin Baker for Mr. Severna's room. In the seventh grade Bert Williams and Victor Chambers are the captains. Competitive try outs will also be played by the boys.

SCOUTS ENJOY GAMES
LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Boy Scout troop No. 96 met at the Scout Hall Wednesday evening with an attendance of 25 scouts, with Scoutmaster Berry and Severna in charge. After the regular opening routine, the patrols spent an hour in study and passing tests, after which the evening was spent in games and contests. Dick Chewing and Raymond Berry were in charge of the games.

PEACE OFFICERS TIME CHANGED ENJOY DINNER FOR MOTORISTS SESSION HERE LICENSE EXAMS

Peace officers, judges and prominent citizens from all over the county attended the January meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers' association, held at the Santa Ana cafe last night. More than 200 persons were present to enjoy a varied entertainment program.

The principal speaker of the evening was George Munro, talented high school orator and captain of the Santa Ana junior police, who gave the organization a colorful picture of the activities of the junior police in Santa Ana since its organization here early last year.

Munro outlined the duties of the junior police officer and told of the accomplishments of the youthful police organization since its inception.

The meeting started with a steak dinner at 6:30 p. m. and most of the program consisted of entertainment, the feature of which was a crystal gazing stunt staged by Major N. Anderson, who successfully answered questions asked by his audience without seeing them and after they had been burned before the eyes of his audience.

Mayor John Knox and members of the city council of Santa Ana were introduced to the peace officers, the mayor making the welcoming address.

TO GIVE LECTURE AT SCHOOL TONIGHT

A. T. Jackson, district passenger agent for the Union Pacific, Los Angeles, arrived in Santa Ana this morning to visit the local office of the Union Pacific and to give an illustrated lecture on Death Valley and Yellowstone National park, at the Willard Junior High school, Washington and Ross streets, at 7:30 o'clock tonight. These lectures are sponsored by the Miss Hazel Nell Helm night school, principal, and Mrs. Golden Weston, director of the evening high school, and the public is cordially invited to attend without admission fee. Mr. Jackson will be assisted by Mrs. Jackson, who operates the stereopticon machine.

Starting on January 11 the office of the Orange county branch of the California Highway patrol will not give further operator and chauffeur license examinations except on Fridays, according to an announcement made today by Captain Henry Meehan.

The hours of 9:15 a. m. until 5 p. m. will be maintained on Fridays, it was announced.

Further announcement was to the effect that operators and chauffeurs may obtain renewals or duplicates every evening of the week including Saturdays and Sundays commencing at 5:15 p. m. and closing at midnight.

Applications for Spanish speaking people will also be taken only on Fridays of each week, commencing at 9:15 a. m. and closing at 5 p. m.

Colwell Becomes Superintendent Of Church School

John K. Colwell was elected superintendent of the First Congregational church Sunday school at the annual dinner and business meeting of that congregation held Tuesday night in the church parlors.

Mr. Colwell succeeds Dr. C. G. Houston, of Costa Mesa, whose resignation followed shortly upon his election in December.

Mr. Colwell, who is the son of Mrs. W. Maxwell Burke of this city, incoming president of the Woman's Union of the church, expects to devote the next two weeks to a study of Sunday school problems and programs.

Approximately 200 attended the meeting, at which annual reports were heard from church officers and department heads. C. M. Rowland, representing the board of trustees, submitted a budget for the ensuing year which was adopted, and the church also acted favorably upon a budget for benevolences, proposed by the Rev. P. F. Schrock, pastor.

The dinner was served under the supervision of the Woman's Union, of which Mrs. E. M. Nealey is president.

More Gasoline Dealers

(Who Handle Signal Purrr-Pull and Other Brands)
Use "Signal Purrr-Pull" in Their Own Cars Than All Other Brands Combined!

Read This Convincing Gasoline Story Told by Dealers to College Men
A strictly unbiased survey, conducted by college students from U.S.C. and California, among 360 independent service stations in California handling from 2 to 6 different brands of gasoline, found that:

1. "More Dealers use Signal Purrr-Pull exclusively in their own cars, THAN ALL OTHER BRANDS COMBINED, regardless of price! 2. And, Signal Purrr-Pull is more than twice as popular—for use in their own cars—as the next brand!"

This is one of the strongest endorsements ever given to any brand of gasoline. It comes, in unbiased form, from men who ought to know. Why not follow their experienced judgement. Just try a 10-gallon test of Signal Purrr-Pull in your car. Sold with an iron-clad money-back guarantee.

Harmony Bridge Club Holds Luncheon, Card Party

Gathering at the Green Cat cafe Tuesday afternoon, members of the Harmony Bridge club preceded their semi-monthly afternoon of cards with a delightful luncheon at which Mrs. A. Adrain and Mrs. Lee Boyle presided as hostesses. Floral centerpieces lent color to the table and helped to make of the luncheon a pleasant introduction to the card session which followed in the Masonic temple lounge. Prizes at bridge were presented Mrs. C. E. Morse, first, Mrs. E. R. Boehm, second, and Mrs. Roland Kloess, third. The club will meet next on January 18, with Mrs. Jack Willey and Mrs. Clark Cleland serving as hostesses. Meetings will be held hereafter on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. It was announced.

Sharing yesterday's occasion were the Mesdames F. A. Shippe, Elton R. Roehm, H. H. Dimmitt, Eugene Helms, D. B. Paddy, S. J. Muestel, C. E. Morse, Hugh Park, Glenn Lyman, B. E. Dawson, W. J. Dean, C. ## Los Gauchos Announce Plans for Formal Dinner Dance

Plans for a formal dinner-dance to be given in the near future by Los Gauchos of the Santa Ana junior college, were discussed at the home of Wilton Hilliard, president, when the members met at his Huntington Beach home for their regular Monday meeting of the new year. As pointed out by the president, Los Gauchos have the only service organization on the campus which does not have an annual social affair on its calendar, and the coming dance will be its initial effort in this line.

H. A. Scott, adviser for the club, gave an interesting report on the geology trip through Arizona, held by college scientists during the recent vacation, and the snow party given by the group at Arrowhead last week.

Refreshments were served later in the evening to the following members present: Bob Brown, Chuck Shelly, Dana Beal, Elmer Kogler, Roy Armes, James Newman, Dewitt Bishop, Kenneth Patrick, James Quiggie, Calvin Stillwell, Ed Hamill, Fred Pinkston, Rex Woodward, Wilton Hilliard, Howard Randles and Mr. Scott, the adviser.

PROMINENT WOMEN SUGGEST PLANS FOR NORMAL LIVING

Fourteen distinguished women of the United States, representing millions of their countrywomen, have urged the nation's wives, mother and daughters to lead the way out of depression by the use of their economic power as controllers of most of the nation's household expenditures, according to a symposium published in the February issue of the Ladies' Home Journal.

These women, known throughout the country for their activities in various lines, have based their appeal on a seven-point platform for normal spending and saving, recently drawn up by the American Economists' committee for Women's Activities. And the platform was in turn, prompted by an editorial appearing in the Ladies' Home Journal, entitled "It's Up to the Women."

From day to day The Register will print some of the short articles written by these women, offering Orange county readers the benefit of their suggestions, based on wide experience and unbiased observation. The full list of names will appear in an early issue.

The American Economists' committee which is sponsor for the seven points, is headed by Dr. Warren M. Persons, consulting economist and former professor of economics at Harvard university. Committee members are drawn from leading universities of the country and from national business organizations.

The seven points of their platform are:

Maintain Normal Living Conditions

The food you eat, the clothes you wear, the house you live in, constitute your standard of living. Don't lower it. Once lowered, that standard is hard to bring back. Protect it. Put your dollars to work. Your purchases will keep retail stocks moving, factories running, your neighbor at work, money in circulation, credit active.

Satisfy Your Wants at Today's Prices

Food, clothing and shelter can all be bought right now at prices that are exceedingly advantageous.

Buy a Home Now

The house and lot that you buy at today's prices will surely be a sound and profitable purchase. It is a splendid way to save.

Modernize and Repair Your Home

Present conditions are highly favorable for such work. It will make your surroundings more pleasant and will make jobs for the unemployed.

Join the Parade to Prosperity

You can participate and profit in the inevitable recovery of general industry by investing in sound American securities. Be among the builders, not with the destroyers.

Stop Being Afraid

Americans are not cowards or misers. Don't spread calamity gossip. Be sane. Spread good news. Be brave. The courageous will reap the benefits.

Keep Your Money Safe—Don't Hoard It

Hoarded money may be misplaced or lost or stolen. Hoarded money pays no interest or dividends. Hoarded money dries up credit and it gives no one a job. The banking system is sound. So is the United States of America.

Evening of Bridge is Delightful Affair

Mr. and Mrs. John Mock were hosts at a pleasant event recently, greeting a group of friends in their home on South Garney street. Many flowers in soft tones were used in decking the room where bridge was played during the evening.

With the checking of tallies, it was found that Mr. and Mrs. M. Allen held high scores. Refreshments of creamed tuna, in patte shells were served with cake and coffee. For this enjoyable interval, tables were lighted with tall candles.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Durbin Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Elzeu, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Keeler, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Knoche and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Allen, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Mock.

Mrs. George Turner returned to her home, 2028 Greenleaf street, this morning following a visit of some weeks in El Paso, Tex., where she was houseguest of Miss Jean Hicks, a former classmate of Miss Turner's at Ramona convent, Alhambra.

Miss Armine Crawford, 110 Roe drive, has had as her houseguest for the past two days Miss Barbara Becker of Phoenix, Ariz. Miss Becker arrived from Phoenix en route to Berkeley, where she is a classmate of Miss Crawford's at the University of California. Miss Crawford entertained at dinner last evening for several classmates residing in this city. All of this group, including Miss Enid Bowles and Miss Marion Cruickshank, plan to start north for Berkeley this evening following their inter-term vacation.

Maurice Phillippe and Robert Brown, well-known vocalists of this city, went last night to Los Angeles for the regular rehearsal and concert of the Chanters, famous singing organization of Al Malakiah temple, Nobles of the Mystical shrine.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Borchard and children, Elizabeth, Caroline, Charles, Richard and Jack, have returned from a week spent in San Fernando valley.

Donald Cameron of Los Angeles, traveling passenger agent for the Panama-Pacific and International Marine S. S. lines, was in Santa Ana yesterday on business.

Chapter AB Hears Original Novel Reviewed

Chapter AB women of the P.E.O. sisterhood had the privilege of listening to the review of a work produced by one of their own number, when Mrs. Harry Hanson discussed a novel written by herself in a program voted one of the most stimulating enjoyed thus far this year.

Mrs. Hanson replaced on Monday's program Mrs. Terry Stephenson, who was prevented by illness from giving her scheduled book review. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. R. B. Newcom in Orange.

Mrs. Hanson's novel offers an interesting analogy between drifting logwood and the characters of human beings, a theme which she develops consistently from incident to incident. The book's background shifts from Michigan to California and creates situations and characters in an imaginative, entertaining style.

Mrs. Holmes Bishop (Marie Bishop) contributed further to the program with three vocal solos, sung to her own accompaniment. The entertainment followed a delightful luncheon, served by Mrs. Newcom and her sister hostess, Mrs. O. H. Egge.

Anaheim Home is Scene Of Linen Shower for Miss Chapin

Complimenting Miss Charlotte Chapin, whose marriage to Victor Fleming is to be a event of Thursday, January 14, Mrs. Charles Dolbeere entertained at a charming affair last evening, greeting guests at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. B. Andrade in Anaheim. The affair was in the nature of a linen shower.

Vivid red roses and sweet peas in pastel tints were used in decking the home for the occasion. Bridge was introduced as the evening's diversion, and when the clever tallies had been checked, Miss Chapin was awarded the prize for scoring high. It proved to be an intriguing powder box, while the package presented to Mrs. E. B. Boieserone for scoring second high, contained a pretty card table cover.

During the succeeding interval, interest was centered in the buffet, where a miniature bride and bridegroom held the place of honor. From the many flowers arranged to complete the bridal effect, were hung snowy white streamers leading to packages for the bride-elect. Linens of charming variety were reviewed when the ribbons and tissues were removed from the gifts.

For serving the dainty refreshments with white Madras linens. They were centered with pastel-hued peas in slender vases which were nestled in frills of yellow, orchid, pink and green tulle. Nut cups decked with bridal figures also were in pastel tones.

Miss Chapin's marriage to Mr. Fleming is to take place at 9:30 o'clock in the morning of January 14, with the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Chapin, 515 East Chestnut street as the setting for the affair. The bride-elect's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kemp of Denver, Colo., have arrived to be present at the ceremony.

Present at the shower were the honoree, Miss Chapin, and Mesdames F. N. Chapin, F. A. Briggs, R. F. Dolbeere, Theda Herman, S. A. Southard, F. L. Gibbs, Miss Harriet Chapin and Miss Dorothy Spicer, of Santa Ana; Mrs. W. B. Kemp, of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. A. B. Andrade, Mrs. E. W. Koehler, Mrs. Harold Burnham and Mrs. L. P. Sweeney, of Anaheim.

Mrs. J. D. McDonald, Mrs. L. P. Kraemer and Mrs. Leon Boieserone of Placentia; Mrs. Josephine Shell, and Miss Katherine Maxwell, of Orange; Mrs. E. A. Boieserone of Fullerton; Mr. P. B. Bates and Mrs. James Clarady of Los Angeles, and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Dolbeere.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. P. Rieseley, who have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Reyer, 2324 North Broadway, for the past two months, left for Fallon, Nev., last evening following a farewell bridge luncheon given in the home of Mrs. Reyer's daughter-in-law, Mrs. John W. Brady, in Hollywood, yesterday. The Rieseleys will enjoy a visit in Fallon before returning to their home in Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Anna Muskopf, 643 North Birch street, has received word from Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kneisly and their daughter Leona of Portland, Ore., who were her houseguests here over the holidays, telling of their homeward trip. The Kneislys report a pleasant journey, interrupted at one point near San Francisco by a landslide. No member of the party was injured, it was said.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Davies of Detroit, Mich., have returned east following a 10-day visit in the Charles E. Hyatt home, 1029 Kilson Drive. Mrs. Davies and Mrs. Hyatt are sisters.

Miss George Turner returned to her home, 2028 Greenleaf street, this morning following a visit of some weeks in El Paso, Tex., where she was houseguest of Miss Jean Hicks, a former classmate of Miss Turner's at Ramona convent, Alhambra.

Miss Armine Crawford, 110 Roe drive, has had as her houseguest for the past two days Miss Barbara Becker of Phoenix, Ariz. Miss Becker arrived from Phoenix en route to Berkeley, where she is a classmate of Miss Crawford's at the University of California. Miss Crawford entertained at dinner last evening for several classmates residing in this city. All of this group, including Miss Enid Bowles and Miss Marion Cruickshank, plan to start north for Berkeley this evening following their inter-term vacation.

Maurice Phillippe and Robert Brown, well-known vocalists of this city, went last night to Los Angeles for the regular rehearsal and concert of the Chanters, famous singing organization of Al Malakiah temple, Nobles of the Mystical shrine.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Borchard and children, Elizabeth, Caroline, Charles, Richard and Jack, have returned from a week spent in San Fernando valley.

RADIO FEATURES

A coast to coast broadcast by Loring A. Schuler, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, when he will explain the now internationally famous "It's up to the Women" platform, was announced today by Major Anderson, manager of the Santa Ana branch of the George Belsey company, limited, Southern California distributors of General Electric refrigerators. The broadcast will be on the air at 9 a. m. tomorrow over KFI. This plan, which is a program of spending and saving that will contribute largely to bringing about the return of normal conditions in business and employment, has gained the enthusiastic approval and reception of thousands of women's club leaders throughout the nation and has been recommended without qualification by the American economists committee for women's activities. Editor Schuler's talk will take the spot on the National Broadcasting company's red network, usually occupied by the General Electric home circle. The General Electric refrigerator department, to which Friday programs have been allotted, gladly sponsors Editor Schuler's talk as its gesture to aid this campaign which already is having a far reaching effect in alleviating the economic situation.

AUXILIARY OF LEGION WILL GIVE PROGRAM

Announcement of a new feature to be presented over KREG once each month was announced by studio officials today. The first program will be broadcast tomorrow afternoon, starting at 3 p. m. This program will be sponsored and directed by the Twenty-first District of the American Legion Auxiliary. The programs will be under direction of Josephine Payne, radio chairman.

The first program will feature musicians from the Newport Harbor unit and Huntington Beach unit of the auxiliary. Rose Kinley Melott of the Newport Beach unit will present a group of vocal numbers and Margaret Colvin, pianist and member of the Huntington Beach unit, will also be on the program.

The program in part to be featured in the first presentation by the Auxiliary will be: "There's a Long, Long Trail a-Winding"; "Trees"; by Rasbach and Joyce Kilmer. Kilmer who served with the American Forces in France during the World War was killed shortly after penning the lyric that has become a classic. Two other numbers included in the program are "Just A-Wearyin' For You", by Carrie Jacobs Bond; and "Thank God For a Garden", by Del Riego.

Sponsored by the Whitson Lumber company, the drama class of the Tustin Union High school will have charge of the program to be broadcast over radio KREG tomorrow morning by direct wire from the high school auditorium. They will present two plays.

The first playlet is an adaptation of the short story "Gold Mounted Guns" by P. B. Buckley and tells the story of a cowpuncher who becomes tired of his job and joins a famous holdup man to gain a little variety and amusement. This playlet has a surprise ending equal to the climax of O. Henry's stories. The cast will be: Peccos Tommy, Norman Watson; Willie Arbaster, Dean Benton; Pa Sanderson, James Wilson; and Grace Sanderson, Maxine Storey.

The second presentation is "Happiness," by J. Hartley Manners and tells how the poor little shop girl proves to a wealthy young widow that happiness is just around the corner. The cast is: Mrs. Crystal-Pole, Marion Leiby; and Jenny, Maxine Storey.

Offering the second of his evangelist addresses, the Rev. John E. Ford will be on the air, broadcasting from station KREG, for one hour tonight. He will start his talk at 7 p. m.

Reverend Ford who has been conducting meetings on North Main street for several months holds his audiences with his stirring talks. He talks over KREG every Monday and Thursday night.

Where rich radium ore lies ready to be mined. . . . LaBine Point, on Great Bear Lake, site of vast deposits of pitchblende ore.

By D. LINDSAY WATSON

RADIUM! This cry of discovery is being echoed in geological and mining circles these days, recalling the thrilling days of gold rushes in the Yukon and California.

For an inky black mineral has been spotted from a rushing airplane in the Canadian wilderness near the Arctic Ocean. In this pitchblende ore lies hidden more radium than now is at work in the world, treating cancer, unraveling the inner structure of atoms and peering into solid steel to discover hidden flaws.

Over 50,000 times more precious than gold is radium, wonder element discovered by the Curies. It is worth $1,500,000 an ounce; gold is worth $27.56 an avoirdupois ounce.

The new discovery of radium ore in Canada promises to break the radium monopoly of the Belgian Congo, just as the development of the African deposits broke the American monopoly after the war.

This result was hardly anticipated by the lone prospector who set out in 1929 for the vast cold, barren wastes around the Great Bear Lake, 800 miles from the nearest railroad.

Indeed, radium was not in his mind at all. He knew, of course, that this part of Canada contained a wealth of valuable minerals, but that vast deposits of radium would be found did not occur to him.

HIGH hopes of mineral treasures in this wilderness were entertained by a number of adventurous spirits. Airplanes, radios and other paraphernalia of modern science were employed in this geological treasure hunt.

Two companies, the Dominion Explorers Limited and the Northern Aerial Minerals Exploration Company, undeterred by the armchair experts who scoffed at the idea of profitably bringing minerals from the back of beyond, have been courageously scouring this country since 1929. They have been rewarded by the finding of rich and substantial deposits of copper ore, good enough to repay the long haul back to civilization.

Gilbert LaBine, Canadian mining engineer, fascinated too by this enigmatic frontier, decided to adventure on his own. In the summer of 1929 he flew to Great Bear Lake in the Northwest Territories with Leigh Brintnell, chief of the Western Canada Airways.

Flying over the eastern shore of the lake, he observed, in the region of Hunter Bay and Echo Bay, that the ground was broken up by a great red slash of "gozzan," a rusty stain 200 feet wide caused by iron ore. They landed and soon found a large vein of quartz.

This quartz vein was about 400 to 500 feet wide and, when further investigated, proved to be 80 miles long. Parallel with it were found copper, cobalt and silver ores.

Along the shore at Hunter Bay on Great Bear Lake were lying immense boulders, some of them as much as 60 tons in weight. They were practically pure copper ore.

This looked hopeful. LaBine staked claims and with his companion turned south wondering if, perhaps, the quartz contained some gold.

THE other companies were operating by airplane only a few miles away. Unwilling to let a possible fortune slip out of his hands, LaBine did not wait for the thaw before returning. At the height of the next winter, in February, with nature in her unkindest mood, he returned to Great Bear Lake again by plane.

Landing, and pushing ahead alone on snowshoes, he prospected most of the eastern shore of the lake. There was no gold, as far as he could see; but after four months he found on a promontory, near where the huge quartz vein ran into the lake, a dull, black, lusterless rock that aroused his curiosity.

He thought perhaps it might be pitchblende, the precious ore in which Pierre and Marie Curie first discovered radium. He called the spot "LaBine Point."

Two months later he was joined by his brother Charles, who with Leo Seaberg and Shirley R. Cragg, an American engineer from Cincinnati, had made the long trip down the

The Canadian Northwest Territories, through which they passed, 3,700,000 square miles in expanse, the only real frontier on the North American continent, are a vast country of immense distances, mighty rivers and huge lakes. The Great Bear Lake itself is about the size of Lake Ontario, 12,000 square miles in area. Only 12,000 people, whites, half-breeds, Indians and Eskimos, occupy this whole region.

Along the course of the rivers there are settlements every 50 to 150 miles; stations of the Hudson Bay Company and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, chief agents of civilization here, together with Indian camps, missions of the Catholic Church and cabins of lone trappers.

Within reach of this help all seems comfortable. But for those who travel just a short distance from the Mackenzie waterway, starvation, freezing, or madness are waiting.

Horrible things may happen in these lonely places of the north, not the least of dangers being the sleigh dogs. They are part wolf, and if a man accidentally falls, the wolf in the dog occasionally masters them and they attack. On their journey LaBine and Cragg heard of a child being eaten by the dogs, and of a colonel of the Mounted Police who, returning from a duty tour, found that his wife had been torn to pieces by his dogs.

At another point they were met by a strange-looking man with white hair hanging down his back. He had been away on a trapping expedition but was unable to remember where he had been or what he had seen. How he had lived in the winter, when the temperature runs from 50 to 70 degrees below zero, was a mystery.

Rapidly, however, planes and radios are encroaching on the wilderness. Everybody flies now in the northwest. But this too has its perils. When Cragg's party arrived at Hunter Bay on the Great Bear Lake they found the wreck of James Vance's plane. Misjudging the distance to the water, he had crashed and drowned.

With the help of planes LaBine and Cragg were able to make several trips back and forth

Packing the radium ore for shipment back to civilization. . . . The ore is worth up to $7000 a ton, and the first consignment was shipped by plane.

A map indicating the scene of the great "radium strike" in Canada's remote northwest.

THE two great railways of Canada are believed to be ready to build into these remote regions when outstanding ore bodies are found. Even with the $1.30 per pound charged for air freight back to Edmonton it would almost be profitable to ship the ore by airplane.

It is beginning to look as if these two men had done a bigger thing for the world (and for their new company, Eldorado Gold Mines, Limited), than many more highly advertised expeditions into the polar regions.

The world really needs an addition to its meager store of radium. After all, there is less than a pound and a half all told. About half of this total (nine ounces, to be exact) has been mined and purified within the borders of the United States.

The United States owes the development of its radium resources particularly to one man, Dr. Richard B. Moore. In 1911 Professor Moore made a speech at the opening of the Chemists' Club in New York City. He warned his fellow chemists that the United States was letting the radium industry slip out of its hands into foreign control.

Aroused by Dr. Moore's remarks, the U. S. Bureau of Mines sent him out to Colorado to investigate. Three times as much radium, he found, was being made from the carnotite ores of Colorado and Utah as from all other sources of radium in the world. Europe was buying and shipping abroad these American ores, manufacturing the radium, keeping the bulk of it and selling small amounts back to Americans at $70,000 a gram.

A RARE minerals laboratory under the charge of Dr. Moore was established at Denver, to work out the best method of coaxing the radium from the ore. At the same time a Radium Institute was set up.

The Radium Institute supplied the capital which permitted the long preliminary work of devising a refining process to be carried out. The Bureau of Mines co-operated by supplying experts in geology and chemistry.

These efforts to give the world and the United States a readier supply of radium were completely successful. Shortly after 1913, when the work was begun, the Denver radium plant was producing the bulk of the world's supply.

However, this same year witnessed the discovery at Katanga, in the Belgian Congo, of a much richer and more extensive pitchblende deposit. This contained enough radium so that it was profitable to ship it to Europe for extraction.

Not indeed until 1922 did the Belgian radium appear on the market, but when it did, it drove all other competitors out of the field. For this reason the American workings have been discontinued (some think unwisely) and the Belgian manufacturers have enjoyed a world monopoly since then.

Resentment has been felt by doctors throughout the world that radium has not been made more widely available for their urgent uses. At Memorial Hospital in New York, devoted entirely to the treatment of cancer, the eight-gram supply of radium, largest store at any one place in the world, is used day and night.

from Edmonton to the site of their find in 13 hours, whereas the canoe trip took all of six weeks from start to finish.

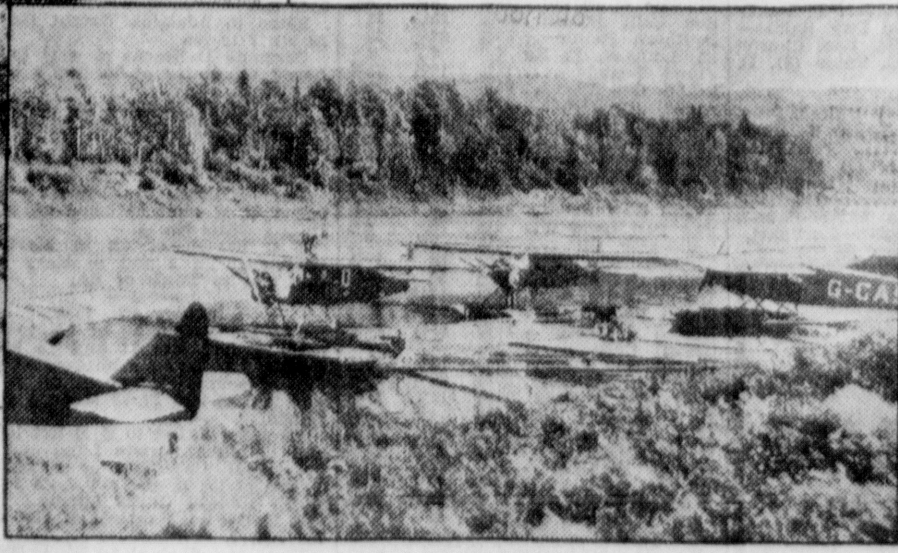

When they got back to civilization in Canada they took some pieces of the black ore to the laboratories. The mineralogists told them that it was a very high grade of pitchblende containing from 30 to 80 per cent uranium oxide. Some of the Colorado ores containing only two to four per cent of uranium oxide have been profitably worked.

RADIUM, too, was present in the pitchblende to the extent of 100 to 200 milligrams to the ton. This was as much as the best of Belgian ores, which still rule the world market. At least $7000 worth of radium, they were told, was present in every ton of the ore.

Fortunately the deposits are concentrated and easily accessible to the surface, which is not true in the Congo.

Further flights were made in February and July until the layout of the lake shore was thoroughly understood. After the first discovery, further explorations were rewarded by the discovery of a second pitchblende vein.

Mr. Cragg believes, however, that a "radium rush" to Echo Bay is not likely to be profitable. The discoverers have fully protected their deposits by claiming all ground within striking range of their veins for long distances. No uranium ore, in which the radium always occurs, other than that found by LaBine and his friends, has been seen.

But the radium find was not all. The silver ore found alongside of the pitchblende has turned out to be of very high grade, containing a relatively high per cent of the metal.

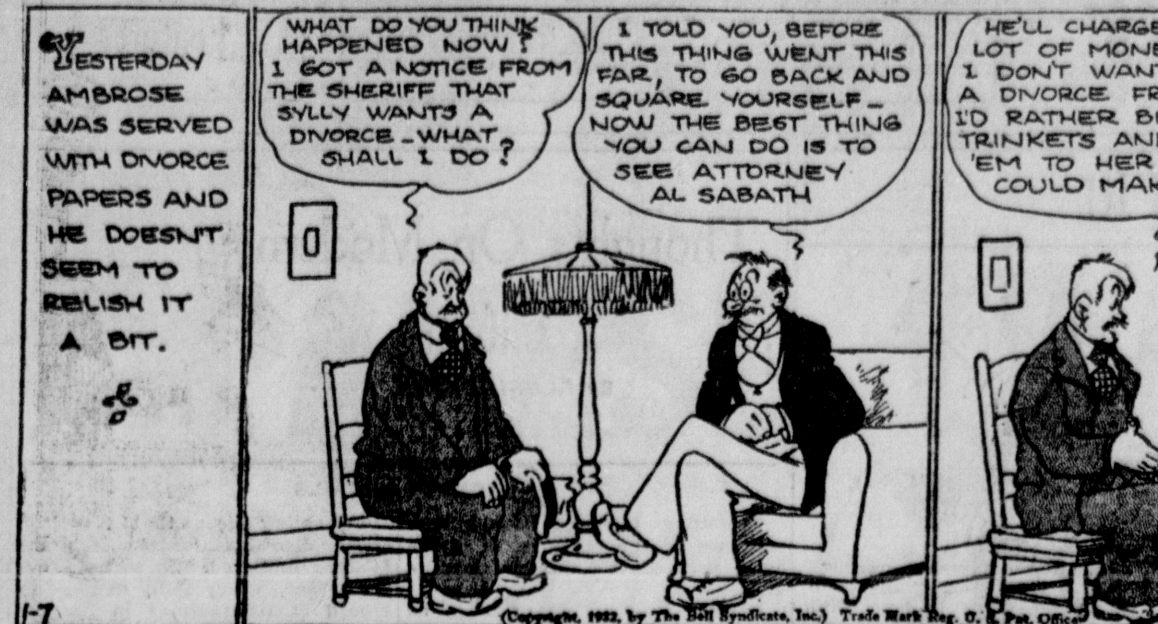

Twenty tons of pitchblende ore have already been shipped out, and 40 more tons are now ready for shipping.

JULIUS ROSENWALD

The death of Julius Rosenwald is not so much an occasion for mourning as for a studying and possible revaluation of standards. His life suggests just such a questioning and revamping. He was a wealthy man who had once been a poor boy. It is our proud boast that there are many such in America. He was an outstanding philanthropist, a peer of philanthropists even in America where to become distinguished as a philanthropist one must have certain other qualities of individuality. Mr. Rosenwald's humanness, his sympathy, his kindness, his ideals were unique distinctions. And then he was a very wealthy man who trained his children to a feeling of responsibility for the progress of the world; who brought them up to tolerate human contacts, which is much more difficult than to love humanity at a distance.

Mr. Rosenwald's rare and precious humility is evidenced by his repeated statement that luck was a large factor in the accumulation of a large income. Now and then a man who has in his own life-time accumulated a large fortune will admit that luck had something to do with it; will admit it in a facetious moment to a group of cronies but for public consumption the bluff is kept up that diligence, and thrift and brains were the tools of his achievement. Mr. Rosenwald was willing to admit the place of luck in the accumulation of his fortune because he believed that there were greater values in life than the accumulation of wealth. His philanthropy was his business. In proportion to his wealth Mr. Rosenwald probably gave away more than the Rockefellers. And it is in this field that his aims and achievements are most worthy of study. His vast fortune, founded on the growth of the Sears-Roebuck company was used in the fight against racial and religious intolerance, ignorance and poverty. It is estimated, on incomplete reports that Rosenwald's personal contributions reached $21,568,670 since the beginning of the century. In addition to this there was the Rosenwald Foundation endowed with Sears-Roebuck stock worth $20,000,000 at the time of the gift. Within the past two weeks the Rosenwald children formed a corporation for philanthropic work. Mr. Rosenwald believed that foundations and gifts should be distributed within 25 years of the death of the founder. Times change, conditions change, needs change and it is beyond the power of the donor to foresee the measure of good which funds may accomplish beyond that period.

In contrast to philanthropists whose good deeds are less notable in the ranks of their own employees than elsewhere Mr. Rosenwald at the time of the deflation of 1921 gave his company $5,000,000 of its stock which he owned and pledged $20,000,000 of his personal fortune. Two years ago when the "bull" stock market crashed he offered personal collateral to back the stock accounts of all the 40,000 employees who were unable to supply additional margin, to the amount of $1,600,000. In a country of generous people he was an example for all to follow. Few of us have a fortune to dispense. But with what we have, whether ability or money we can restrain ourselves from paternalism. And all of us can be intolerant of racial prejudice and religious animus and with the spirit of charity in our hearts be kindly toward our fellows.

The farm board traded off surplus wheat to Brazil for some coffee the other day. Now the board only needs to trade somebody something for some doughnuts.

DOESN'T FEEL LIKE GRASS

Poor old New York! Not long ago we noted the sad plight of a man who wanted a patch of garden and was arrested for taking a bucket of dirt from Central park or somewhere. Ground in New York is precious and therefore his offense was serious.

A late dispatch from the unhappy city states that all efforts to grow a strip of grass in a boulevard parkway have failed. Waste paper collected in the grass plot, and the grass always looked sickly. Now artificial grass has been substituted. It is composed of asphalt and slate. It is said to be always neat, always green and easily cleaned. And probably if you stay far enough away from it it looks like grass. But it is not good pasture.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS

"Bugs" Baer, in the Los Angeles Examiner in his humorous column gave utterance to a statement of clear fact when he said that the power companies, railroads and the banks are constantly urging that the government should not go into private business, but just as soon as difficulties arise in these institutions, they "make the government a member of the firm."

Yes, and it is noted that when this is done, and the government comes to the aid, that stocks, which are languishing, immediately show signs of life and begin to rise. We are not finding fault with this; we do not believe that business can be rehabilitated without the government's aid. And by the same token, we do not believe that the problems of the unemployed and the necessities for those in want can be supplied or even an approach made to their being supplied, without the aid of the government.

We do feel like condemning pretty strenuously those who are constantly talking against the government entering into business, and they mean by that they do not want the government to help in any business but their own.

If society, through organized government, can aid and co-operate with business men in making business successful and prosperity assured, we know no reason why it shouldn't be done, and the minute the banks or the railroads or public utilities can see any way that the government can aid, they are for it, and never raise the question about the government's entering business.

We are for them, but we want them to recognize the fact that when the government does aid, and passes legislation to help, that the government is aiding business.

LaFollette's Proposed $5,500,000,000 Relief Bond Issue Is Already Center of Cross-Fire Of Supporters and Opponents

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two stories on the $5,500,000,000 relief bond issue proposed by Senator LaFollette, Republican of Wisconsin. Rodney Dutcher, Washington correspondent for NEA and The Register, discusses the arguments for and against the proposal in this article and in the one which will follow tomorrow.

Washington—the one impressive proposal for taking a powerful smash at the depression is this proposal for a public construction bond issue of billions of dollars. The sum of money involved is enormous, but the plan's possibilities for economic revival as seen by its supporters are even more so.

Several members of Congress have been urging such a measure as a means of unemployment relief and business revival, proposing bond issues of from two to five billions. Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin tops them all with a bill which would raise $5,500,000,000.

Whether the idea is constructive and really bears great promise as an unprecedented recipe for breaking up a terrible slump or whether it is dangerous and likely to do more harm than good is already the subject of an argument which probably will attract a great deal of attention as it continues.

Five billions is so much money that in peacetime it could be devoted only to public projects which would represent a definite gain after the depression had passed. It would only be raised in time of actual emergency and those who want the bond issue compare their plan with the Liberty loan drives and this period with that time of emergency when about $25,000,000,000 was raised for purposes of war.

The present program for strengthening the nation's credit resources is recognized as one designed to prop up existing business—to prevent the effects of depression from becoming increasingly serious. But it is claimed that the bond issue would soon put millions of persons at work and stimulate all lines of business as well as definitely ameliorate a situation threatening the solvency of banks, insurance companies, railroads and other corporations. LaFollette says it would boost commodity and security prices, something essential to any quick recovery.

"Best estimates indicate that expenditure of $5,500,000,000 for construction would give jobs to 1,500,000 of the unemployed directly and at least twice that many indirectly in industries supplying the materials and producing consumers' goods for those whose purchasing power would be restored," the senator says. "Commodity prices would be stimulated both by the immediate demand for finished and semi-finished products and by a changed consumer psychology which would cause a resumption of buying. Basic industries, now suffering severely, would be affected by the demand for iron and steel, lumber, cement, brick, tile, glass, electrical equipment, plumbing supplies and other material. Mines, quarries and forests would increase production. Much railroad traffic would be restored."

Further, if half the money went into wages, more shoes, clothing, food, automobiles, radios, furniture and similar things would be sold. Farmers presumably would benefit through increased demand for their products and better prices. LaFollette's bill proposed to issue bonds of $50 denomination and up, the issue to be floated by popular subscription much as the Liberty loan issues were floated. The bonds would mature in 10 years and be retired by a fund raised through an additional surtax which LaFollette suggests as 2 per cent on net income of all persons above the $5000 income group with exemptions of $2500 from taxable income for married persons receiving under $10,000 and of $1000 for unmarried persons.

Under a newly created administrator of public works, also $500,000,000 would be spent to expand federal construction—river and harbor and flood control work, public buildings, forest roads, irrigation and reclamation; $1,000,000,000 on additional grants to aid state public works construction—expanded federal-aid highway work, highway bridges, grade crossing elimination, and $3,750,000,000 made available for loans to state and local authorities—who usually carry on 90 per cent of public construction. Unable to enlarge existing programs and sometimes forced to curtail them, these authorities have worse credit conditions. The loans would be made available at no more than 5 per cent interest for highways, streets, bridges, water and sewerage works, flying fields, establishment of parks and playgrounds, schools and other public works, grade crossing elimination, fire prevention lanes and other forestry construction. Another $100,000,000 would be loaned to limited dividend corporations formed to construct low-priced housing.

There are some very violent arguments against this bond issue plan and they will be discussed in another article tomorrow.

THE LESSON

While many centuries rolled by
The almond-eyed Chinese
Were satisfied to live and die
In calm and placid peace.
The savage use of lethal arms
They still remained untaught,
They had no fear of war's alarms
Because they never fought.

Then other nations, east and west,
With rifles in their fists
Came barging in and dispossessed
These gentle pacifists
Of sections of their broad domain
And scattered them in flight,
So circumstances made it plain
That they would have to fight.

And so they purchased guns and swords,
And trained their sons for war
That they might crush invading hordes
Should they appear once more.
"No more strange men from alien lands
Shall make of us their prey,
For we'll bear weapons in our hands
To drive them out," said they.

But now they're trained to face the fray,
And Mars is at the helm,
Their foes pare bigger chunks away
From their far-stretching realm.
So behind their famous wall
They sit and sadly muse:
"Tis better not to fight at all
Than 'tis to fight and lose."

TOO MUCH TOLERANCE

An investigation into the affairs of one of the greatest cities in the world has disclosed the fact that a crowd of political crooks have been making money out of their jobs unlawfully, at the same time giving the people an extremely inefficient administration.

Thirty years ago there was another investigation into the affairs of the same city which disclosed a bad state of affairs, but one not comparable with the present situation. Then the people became indignant, banded together in reform organizations, and swept the crooked crowd out of office.

Today comparatively little attention is paid to the disclosures that are printed day after day, and it is extremely doubtful if they will affect noticeably the result of the next election.

I have been a strong adherent of tolerance in religion as well as in politics.

I do not question a man's intelligence or his chances of salvation if his beliefs are opposed to mine.

I do not question his honesty if he belongs to a different political party.

But there should be a limit to the tolerance with which thieves in public office should be regarded.

The voters of a city should remember that the poor and the unfortunate are the first to suffer from bad government, and that bad government always fosters and protects crime.

As long as the crowd of corruptionists that is now in charge of the public affairs of one of the greatest cities is regarded with mild amusement, there is not going to be any hope for betterment.

In the meantime the costs of living in this city are becoming almost prohibitive, and criminals of the most dangerous sort, sure that they can find political protection, engage in gun battles on the street—battles which unfortunately cost more lives of innocent bystanders than those who engage in them.

In Thomas Bailey Aldrich's "Story of a Bad Boy," one of the big boys of the town told the school bully that the stranger in school some day might "get afraid of him and lick him."

And that was what happened.

People not only must cease to tolerate thieves in office, but must become so afraid of them that they will get rid of them. Until that happens crooked ward heelers will conduct important offices and gunmen and grafter of all sorts will continue to keep their grafting and private wars going.

But treat crime as a joke, and apply the principle of "live and let live" to criminals, and there will be no chance of making things any better.

And if they do not get better, be assured, that they will speedily become worse.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

BACK TO DETAILS

Yesterday I spoke of the importance of the conquest of waste as a part of the war on depression.

In this war no waste is to be fought with the maximum success, there must be a new wrestling with details by executives.

In the inflated days that came to an end in the closing months of 1929, there was a growing tendency on the part of many big executives to get so far away from a knowledge of the details of their enterprises that they lost much of the control that might have checked the excessive waste that then crept into business and industry.

There comes to mind an old story of Napoleon.

Napoleon was blessed with unusual executive capacity. He never made the mistake of undertaking to do all of the detailed work of the enterprise he was leading. He kept himself free for bigger tasks of policy and strategy.

But Napoleon never made the mistake that many executives made in the days of the now defunct New Era. He never assumed that policy and strategy could be evolved in a vacuum. He knew that sound policy must rest upon a foundation of sure facts.

The story goes that Napoleon once called his Captain of Commissary and told him to have every order, every bill, and every record of transactions in connection with the operation of the commissary department come to him for a period of two weeks.

The great Napoleon checking the meat bills is an interesting picture, but it is not a picture of great ability wasting itself on unimportant details, but rather a picture of great ability taking the trouble to gain first-hand contact with details to enable it to deal with questions of general policy, intelligently.

In the early days of the depression, it was a favorite line with the comedians to say that one of the first results of the depression would be that high salaried executives would have to go back to work.

The comedians meant, of course, that the executives would have to spend more time at business and less time reading the ticker tape.

But the deeper significance of this music hall quip was that executives must more and more buckle down to a mastery of details enough to give them a realistic basis for rational policies.

WHAT THEN?

Children sometimes exasperate us to the point of desperation and we, in a tearing rage, announce some drastic sentence.

"Young man, I've had enough of this. This is no stable where you come for shelter and food. I'll have you know that you'll respect your home and your parents sufficiently to behave yourself like a human being or you're going out of this house and stay out."

"That will be about all from you, young lady. You'll do what I say and that's all about that. If you don't like it you can find some place else. Maybe you can find somebody who will wash your clothes, and cook your food and take care of you when you're sick and the rest of it without a bit of appreciation or pay. Maybe you can find somebody who will put up with your carelessness and your impudence. It isn't me. I don't care whether you do or not. Suit yourself. I won't ask you to come back."

Tempered beyond your strength by their seeming heedlessness you say the hot words that are going to burn themselves into the minds and hearts of the children long after you have begun to wish you had never said them. These adolescent children who do such silly things, such dangerous things, are not defying you. They are stumbling along as best they can with the light they have. You did not know so much at 17 as you do now at 45. Remember.

There isn't one of us, saint or sinner, who has not made mistakes that we want to forget and to have others forget. We didn't grow up full of wisdom. We gave our fathers and mothers and teachers plenty to do to keep us from injuring ourselves and other people. But we forget that and remember only our present days of strength and knowledge. We lose our tempers and our common sense. We need to keep both.

Whenever you feel like making a drastic announcement go off by yourself and think it all out. Say it all out loud if that helps you what? Then you have cooled off think it all over again and always test yourself with the question, "What then?"

After you have sent the child from you what then? Where will he go? What will he do? Then what? Unless you can see two clear steps ahead and both of them good for the child's future, reserve your decision and go on working with him. Keep quiet until you can see one step ahead and then take it and ask again, what then?

There is no final decision rendered in this life. No matter how wise you may be, no matter how deeply you wish to be wise, you will fall short of the truth and your wisest word will not stand up under the test of time. If you were all wise, if you knew what was to happen tomorrow, or even tonight, you might feel free to make final gestures and thundering decisions. But you don't and you can't. The next hour may change all the conditions and bring on a new situation and you find yourself at a fresh beginning.

It is best to be quiet and patient and work out the child's salvation with his cooperation. There will not be so many things to unbury or to undo. There will be a better chance for effective work if you wait until you can answer that important question: What then? (Copyright, 1932, The Bell Syn., Inc.)

DRAFT LAW DECISION

On January 7, 1918, the United States supreme court declared the draft law constitutional.

The high tribunal ruled that congress has the power to exact enforced military duty by its citizens. Seven cases were acted on, Chief Justice White, in his decision, declared:

"... although ... compelled military service is repugnant to free government and in conflict with all the great guarantees of the constitution as to individual liberty, it must be assumed that the authority to raise armies was intended to be limited to the right to call an army into existence, counting alone upon the willingness of the citizen to do his duty in time of public need—that is, in time of war."
